The interdisciplinary program in Social Inquiry leads to the bachelor of arts degree in Liberal Arts. Students interested in Social Inquiry are encouraged to consult with an advisor and/or the director of the program when selecting courses. Students can either complete one of the options outlined below or design their own program of study in consultation with a faculty advisor. (As Liberal Arts majors, students in Social Inquiry cannot take a minor.) They can track their progress in the program by using this Program Worksheet .

Options include the designs outlined below. For a sampling of Social Inquiry integrative courses recently offered at Lang, see pages 3-4.
