NON-DEGREE GRADUATE APPLICATION

GRADUATE NON-DEGREE PROGRAMS

Attach a check or money order for $50 payable to The New School and mail to:

The New School for Social Research, Office of Admission (GF 300), 79 Fifth Avenue, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10003. Carefully complete all requested information. Visit www.newschool.edu/nssr/non-degree-students/ for instructions.

A complete non-degree application consists of this form, a $50 application fee, an official transcript indicating conferral of a bachelor's degree, one letter of recommendation, and a one- to three-page statement of purpose. Non-degree students are limited to a maximum of two courses in a semester, and a total of three courses altogether (two in one semester, one in the other). Non-degree students who take only one course in each of two semesters have also reached the limit of non-degree study. Admission to 7000-level courses is not open to non-degree students. Non-degree students have full privileges at New School libraries and academic computing facilities. If subsequently admitted to a graduate degree program, they may petition to have credit earned during non-degree study applied to the degree program. Non-degree students may audit courses only if they take a course for credit during the semester in which they wish to audit a course. The audited course counts as one of the two courses they may be permitted to take. Non-degree students follow the same policies as degree students for course grades and other matters.
