

Committee on Undergraduate Education

Announcements:

- The new curriculum is in the process of being handed off to the Provost office for submission to the state (NYSED)
- CUE is working with school leadership to identify an introductory selection of minors that would be available to students as of 2014.
- Upcoming changes to the CUE page at Parsons (newschool.edu/parsons/cue) will include an FAQ page that brings together questions and answers from the many meetings that we have had with faculty over the past year. We are also investigating other avenues of online discussion that can be hosted on the page so that we can encourage more dialogue.
- There will be Spring information sessions to share many of the courses in the first year curriculum. The goal is to provide the opportunity to understand these courses in relation your own teaching and practice. Information, including descriptions of the new courses, dates, times and sign up, will be available on the parsons CUE page.
- Workshops. Jean Gardner from CUE and the School of Constructed Environments will be leading the participatory workshop “Re-Invigorate Your Teaching & Student Learning.” This will be first in a series of workshops dedicated to pedagogy and the new curriculum.

This workshop is for faculty interested in developing teaching techniques for the new curriculum, both in the first year as well as years two through four. We will discuss the “why” and the “what” of introducing new ways of teaching and learning along with the new curriculum. Exploring the relationship of doing and thinking is central to this workshop. Join us to learn how you can participate in developing a new pedagogy.

Led by Jean Gardner, Jeffrey Carter, Mark Wilson
