Student: Please attach an appropriate writing sample plus a three- to five-page essay providing the rationale for admission to graduate study. The essay should establish three things: 1) the area of study makes sense given your academic or professional interests, preparation, and career plans; 2) there is good reason for taking graduate courses now rather than waiting until the undergraduate degree is completed; 3) your studies and experience provide a sufficient basis for successfully completing graduate-level work.
