

GLOBAL FINANCE
A training in state-of-the-art financial engineering

Frederick P. Kellett

11 Sterling Place, Apt. 4D, Brooklyn, NY 11217
917-838-8895 kellettf@aol.com

A seasoned executive with 15 years of experience in the private, non-profit and government sectors, I have built and directed international operations with emphasis on business development, entrepreneurship, and threat reduction in emerging markets.

EDUCATION

New School University	MS candidate, Global Finance	Present
University of Chicago	BA (interdisciplinary studies in the humanities)	1987-1991

RELATED EXPERIENCE AND RESEARCH

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT, Byelocorp Scientific, Inc. 1998-2006
BSI, a privately held investment holding company, successfully built and sold a portfolio of manufacturing, technology and communications companies in developed and emerging market countries including: Belarus, Italy, Kazakhstan and the U.S.

- Oversaw portfolio of five start-up companies following multiple business models in diverse markets.
 - Managed operational and country risks – successfully directed major work-out in one of the portfolio companies.
 - Traveled regularly to company sites to monitor performance relative to strategic targets, obtain feedback and ensure that responses addressed both shortcomings and new opportunities.
 - Directed US Government relations, sales and contracting.
 - Drafted and edited corporate communications; Managed media relations.
-

LEADERSHIP

VISITING FELLOW, Henry L. Stimson Center 2005-2007
The Stimson Center is a Washington-based nonpartisan think tank focused on international security.

- Lead Stimson Center efforts to integrate private sector models and innovations into G8 nonproliferation programming in order to ensure sustainable redirection of former Soviet WMD scientists to peaceful, commercial research.
- Initiated and completed a comprehensive restructuring plan for the Department of Energy's struggling Initiative for Proliferation Prevention by analyzing and ranking commercial opportunities and assembling a pipeline of projects that will reduce program risk while increasing both commercial and national security returns on investment.

COUNTRY DIRECTOR, International Executive Service Corps 1994-1998
IESC is a nonprofit management consulting firm servicing entrepreneurs in developing countries.

- Built and directed USAID-funded management consulting program supporting local business development in Uzbekistan, Tajikistan and Turkmenistan.
- Eight fold growth in projects.
- Fostered professional growth and initiative in local staff.

PEACE CORPS VOLUNTEER, UZBEKISTAN 1992-1994

- Taught English at the Institute of Biophysics and at the Cabinet of Ministers of the Republic of Uzbekistan.

SKILLS

Computer Skills: Visual Basic, HTML, Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Access
Language Skills: English (Native); Uzbek, Russian and French (Conversant)