

U-n-f-o-l-d: Art and Climate Change

tian summer of reckless denial? Is th

Public programs: Role of art in climate change debates

CONTENTS

PANELS & CONVERSATIONS

Conversation with the Curators: David Buckland and Chris Wainwright
What Ifs: Climate Change and Creative Agency
Climate Change: Art, Activism, and Research
Under Water: Climate Change, Insurance Risk, and New York Real Estate
What Insects Tell Us: A Conversation between David Dunn and Hugh Raffles
Southern Discomforts: A Focus on Antarctica

PERFORMANCES

New York Mud Pies or A Taste of Climate Change: Urban Reforestation in NYC
This Clement World

SYMPOSIA

Rethinking Everyday Religion and Climate Change in the Himalayas
Water, Culture, and Climate Change

SPECIAL EVENTS

New York Book Launch and Reception: Climate Change and Cities
Climate Change Art/Science Dating Game

BROWN BAGS: WORKS-IN-PROGRESS

Economics and Climate Change
Asia's Changing Megadelta Systems
Repurpose Compostables
Venice/New York: Waterlines
Climate Manipulation Station
Designing for Resilience
A Retreating Goddess? Conflicting Interpretations of Climate Change
Near the Gangotri Glacier

VISUAL RESEARCH WORKSHOP

Down the Gowanus: Climate in Concrete

VIDEO

Cool Stories for when the Planet Gets Hot II and III (New York premiere)

RADIO

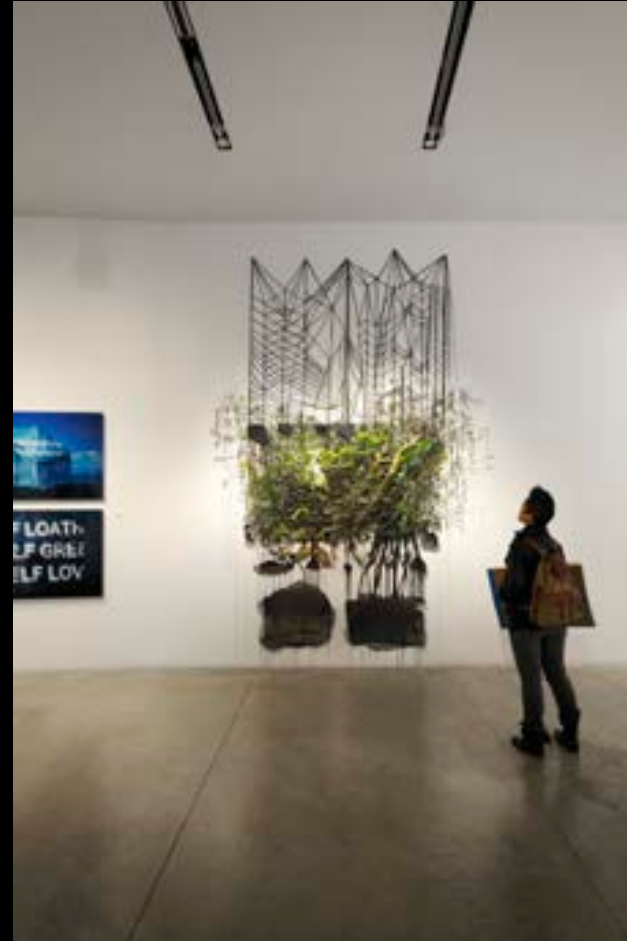

AirSpace: WNSR New School Radio

OTHER RELATED EVENTS AT THE NEW SCHOOL STUDENT VIDEO CONTEST
CALENDAR
CREDITS

Panel: Art Activism and Research

Conversation: What Insects Tell Us

What ifs: Climate Change and Creative Agency

NY Mud Pies: Tasting Urban Reforestation in NYC

Southern Discomforts: A Focus on Antarctica

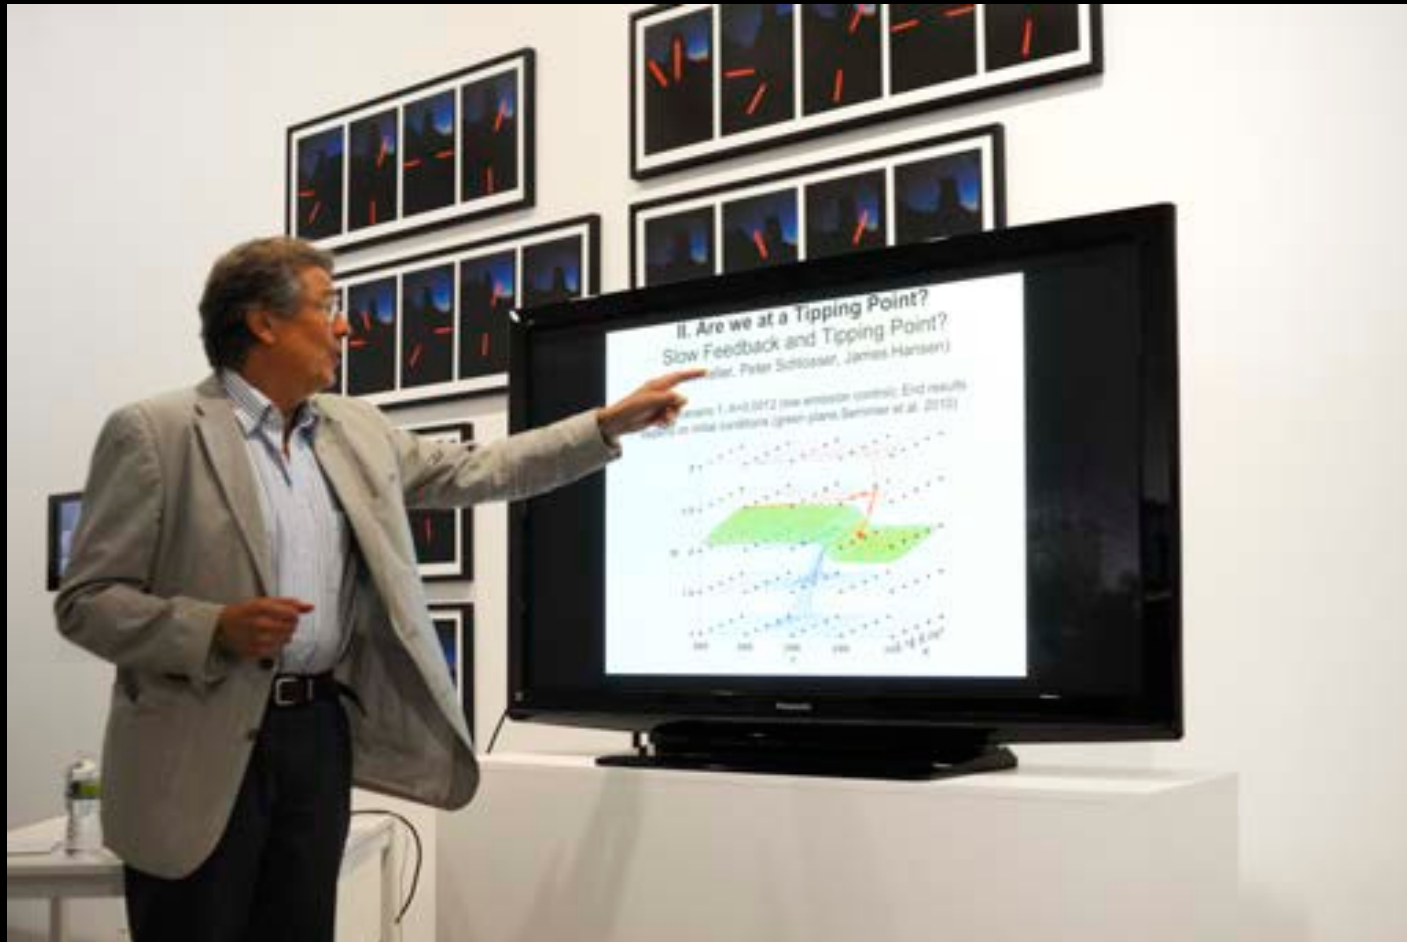

Performance by Cynthia Hopkins: This Clement World

Video: Cool Stories for When the Planet Gets Hot III, NY premiere

Brown Bag research presentations

WNSR New School Radio

Collaboration with India-China Institute

India-China Institute, in collaboration with Sheila C. Johnson Design Center of Parsons, invites you to

Rethinking Everyday Religion and Climate Change in the Himalayas

Li Ba (Friends of Nature, China), Sanjeev Chaturvedi (Punjab University, India), Anil Chitrakar (Himalayan Climate Initiative, Nepal) and Faiz Ali Khan (Ministry of Environment, Pakistan)

Friday | November 18 | 6:00 pm
Anita Moriz and Stephen Kellen Auditorium
66 Fifth Avenue, The New School

Coffee, Tea, and Refreshments at 5:30pm
www.indiachinainstitute.org

INDIA CHINA INSTITUTE
THE NEW SCHOOL

The India China Institute, in collaboration with the Sheila C. Johnson Design Center of Parsons, invites you to

Water, Culture, and Climate Change

In a world of melting glaciers, rising seas, devastating floods, and extreme droughts, the role that climate change plays in exacerbating water overabundance and scarcity is readily apparent. This event will feature SARASIA SOLE JOHNSON, SAI ZHANG, and ANNE RADWACKER presenting new research in a public discussion with Ashok Gureng, Georgina Drew, Javer Merchant, and others, on our longstanding relationships with water.

Tuesday | December 13, 2011 | 4pm
Theresa Long Community and Student Center
35 W. 13 Street | 2nd floor | The New School
www.indiachinainstitute.org

Coffee, tea and refreshments at 7:45pm

INDIA CHINA INSTITUTE
THE NEW SCHOOL

Art/Science Dating Game

Visual research workshop with the Canary Project on the Gowanus Canal

The Canary Project: the Gowanus: Caught In The Act

Visual research workshop

The Canary Project: the Gowanus: Caught In The Act

< 0

Fieldnotes from the Gowanus

Fieldnotes from the Gowanus

