Eugene Lang College is The New School’s four-year liberal arts college for traditional-age undergraduates. What began as the experimental Freshman Year Program in for high school students in 1972 became the Seminar College in 1975 and a separate division of the university in 1985. This bold experiment in undergraduate education is named in honor of educational philanthropist and New School trustee Eugene M. Lang, who has supported the college most generously. Students at Eugene Lang College enjoy small seminar-style classes taught by a faculty of prominent scholars, many of whom are also affiliated with the graduate departments of The New School for Social Research. Lang’s location in the center of a major metropolitan area offers its students opportunities for civic engagement and internships equaled by few small liberal arts schools.

Accreditation

All degree programs at The New School are registered by the New York State Education Department. The New School has been regionally accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education since 1960. Additionally, professional curricula are accredited by the appropriate professional educational agency or board. Accrediting agencies of individual programs are listed below.

- Parsons The New School for Design has been accredited by the National Association of Schools of Art and Design since 1966.
  - The BBA in Design and Management meets NASAD standards for the Bachelor of Arts—four years: Design and Management. It is registered as a Bachelor of Business Administration through the New York State Education Department (NYSED) and listed as Bachelor of Business Administration in Design and Management by The New School.

- The doctoral clinical psychology program has been accredited by the American Psychological Association since 1981.

- The master’s program in urban policy analysis and management has been accredited by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration since 1988.

- The master’s program in architecture has been accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board since 1994.

ADMISSION

Eugene Lang College seeks self-motivated students who are intellectually adventurous and looking for a distinctive liberal arts degree program. Students who are open and sincere and unafraid to tackle difficult questions will be at home at Lang. Admission decisions are made without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, political affiliation, disability, sex, sexual orientation, or age. Lang does not limit the number of students admitted from any one school or geographic area.

The admission committee for Eugene Lang College works with the dean to set the requirements for admission, reviews applications, and is solely responsible for admission decisions. The committee carefully evaluates each application on an individual basis and does not adhere to rigid admission formulas, although accepted students, at a minimum, present evidence of achievement in college preparatory courses and demonstrate well-developed writing skills.

Prospective students should regard the application process not as a test but as a way of clarifying their educational needs and describing their experiences (academic and nonacademic), hopes, and expectations. Applicants are responsible for meeting all deadlines, selecting appropriate individuals for their academic and personal references, writing thoughtful essays, and scheduling interviews. If questions or problems arise during the admission process, it is important that the applicant contact the Office of Admission promptly. Call 212.229.5665 or email lang@newschool.edu.

Lang hosts campus visitors Monday through Friday. Visit the Admission website to learn more about campus visits and/or register for a tour.

HOW TO APPLY

All applicants for admission to Eugene Lang College, whether as freshman or transfer students, must complete the online Common Application (www.commonapp.org). The Common Application has several advantages:

• Payment of application fee and submission of essays can be done electronically.

• Teachers and guidance counselors can submit references electronically.

• Applications are processed more quickly, and prospective students can check the status of their applications online.

Regular (Freshman) Admission

High school seniors can apply as first-year students for fall or spring semester admission. The admission committee considers many factors in reviewing applications for freshman admission. Academic preparation—which should include coursework in English, history, social science, a foreign language, mathematics, and science—is of primary importance. The character, creativity, and intellectual promise of each student are also evaluated on the basis of information provided.

Early-Entrance Admission

Every year, Eugene Lang College offers admission to a limited number of students who wish to begin college early in lieu of completing their final year of high school. Applicants considered for early entrance must demonstrate strong academic promise and personal maturity and have the support of their high schools. Arrangements to obtain a high school diploma must be made by the student with the high school prior to admission. Early entrance is available for the fall semester only.

Early-Decision Admission

High school seniors who decide that Eugene Lang College is their first choice can apply for admission under the early-decision option. This decision is binding—students who are admitted are required to withdraw all applications from other colleges and enroll in the following fall term. In some cases, the admission committee may decide to hold off on a final decision in order to review further information, including first-semester grades, new writing samples, and additional recommendations. In that case, the application is reviewed again with the regular pool of applicants and the early-admission decision is no longer binding.

Admission for International Students

Approximately 5 percent of the students at Eugene Lang College are international. Lang encourages applications from international students. Admission requirements and application materials are the same as for residents of the United States with one addition: students whose native language is not English must submit results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). Acceptable TOEFL scores are 600 or above on the written exam, 250 on the electronic test, or 100 on the Internet-based test.

All applicants with international transcripts are required to submit original transcripts with certified English language translations. Applicants who wish to transfer academic credits earned at a college or university outside the U.S. must have their transcript(s) evaluated by World Education Services (WES, www.wes.org), our preferred provider, or another member of the National Association of Credit Evaluation Services (NACES). A Course By Course Evaluation Report must be prepared for each transcript. It is recommended that students start the evaluation process as early as possible and submit all required documents to WES (or another provider) to ensure the timely completion of their evaluation report. For more information, see the Application instructions online.
Admission to BA/BFA Programs

Applicants for a BA/BFA dual degree program must file the joint application. Application forms and credentials (transcript, essays, test scores, and recommendations) may be submitted either to Lang or the Parsons or Jazz admission office respectively, which will share them with the other division. Eugene Lang College admission staff works with the Parsons and Jazz admission staff to review applications. Students can apply for admission to a dual degree program either as first-year or as transfer students.

BA/BFA with Parsons The New School for Design

All applicants must submit a portfolio and take the “Parsons Challenge.” See the instructions on the Parsons website or contact the Parsons Office of Admission at 212.229.8989.

BA/BFA with The New School for Jazz and Contemporary Music

All applicants are required to audition. For information about auditions, contact The New School for Jazz and Contemporary Music: call 212.229.5896 or email jazzadmin@newschool.edu.

Admission to the Exchange Program

To apply for the exchange program at Eugene Lang College, prospective students must meet the following criteria:
- Be matriculated in good academic and disciplinary standing at their home institution
- Have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 in a standard 4.0 U.S. scale (equivalent to a B average)
- Have at least sophomore (second year) status by the time their exchange program begins
- Have the approval of his or her home institution for the exchange program with The New School

To learn more about the application and selection process, go online to www.newschool.edu/lang/exchange and then speak to a study abroad advisor at your home institution.

Special Admission (Nonmatriculated)

Students who wish to take courses at Eugene Lang College without matriculating in a Bachelor of Arts program can apply for admission as special students using an abbreviated application form. Students are permitted to register for a normal credit load (typically four courses per semester) over the course of one academic year, subject to permission. Enrollment as a special student does not guarantee admission to the college. Special students who wish to remain at Lang after one year must matriculate by applying using the appropriate freshman or transfer application. Special students are not eligible for financial aid or university housing.

Admission for Transfers

Students who are attending or have attended another college or university and who wish to complete their education at Eugene Lang College may apply for admission as transfer students. To qualify for transfer admission, students must have completed at least one semester of study at a another institution and will be expected to spend a minimum of two years in residence at Eugene Lang College.

APPLICATION DEADLINES AND REQUIREMENTS

To apply, visit www.newschool.edu/Lang and choose “admission.” Fall semester begins in August; Spring semester begins in January. Consult the academic calendar for details.

Regular First-Year Student

Application deadline: January 5 for fall entry; November 1 for spring entry

Required items:
- $50 nonrefundable application fee
- Application form (Common Application online: www.commonapp.org/CommonApp/Default.aspx)
- Two Essays
- Secondary school transcript
- Counselor recommendation
- Teacher evaluation
- SAT or ACT scores (or a graded academic paper)
- TOEFL score (if applicable)

Early Decision

Round 1
- Application Deadline: November 1
- Decision Notification by December 15

Round 2
- Application Deadline: January 15
- Decision Notification by Feb 15

Required items: same as for regular first-year student

Early Entrance

Application deadline: January 5

Required items: Same as for regular first-year students except that PSAT scores may be substituted for SAT or ACT scores, and a second teacher evaluation is required.

Transfer

Application deadlines: April 1 for fall entry; November 1 for spring entry

Required items:
- Same as for regular first-year students plus official college transcripts. Note, transfers would submit a faculty recommendation in lieu of a teacher evaluation and a college official’s report in lieu of a counselor recommendation.

Readmission

Application deadlines: July 1 for fall entry; November 1 for spring entry
Required items:
- Readmission application form
- $50 nonrefundable application fee
- Statement of intent

Special Student
Application deadlines: July 1 for fall entry; November 1 for spring entry
Required items:
- Special student application
- Essay
- Transcript from last institution attended (Students with fewer than 24 credits of coursework completed at the time of application must submit secondary school transcripts as well as college transcripts.)
- $50 nonrefundable application fee
- An interview is recommended but not required.
- TOEFL scores if applicable (required for international students whose first language is not English)

Exchange Programs
Exchange programs with other institutions are constantly evolving. For up-to-date deadlines and information, visit www.newschool.edu/lang/exchange-programs/ and contact Kim Foote (footek@newschool.edu), study abroad advisor.

ADVANCED STANDING AND TRANSFER CREDITS
Applicants who have completed college-level courses may qualify for advanced standing. The New School will evaluate prior credits after a student has been admitted to Eugene Lang College.

The New School accepts credit from regionally accredited institutions. Coursework from non-regionally-accredited institutions will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis; students may be asked to provide course syllabi, portfolios, and other pertinent documentation.

Evaluation of transfer credit for undergraduate degree students is handled through the Office of Admission. Each course will be evaluated individually. The maximum number of credits that can be transferred is 60. Students admitted to a BA/BFA program can transfer 45 liberal arts credits and 34 fine or performing arts credits.

Normally, courses approved for transfer credit count toward general credit requirements only and not toward area of study requirements. To apply a transferred course to a specific area of study, an admitted student must consult with the program chair or director and provide a course syllabus for review. Students may view their approved transfer credit and its correlation to degree requirements in DegreeWorks, the university’s online degree audit tool, which is accessible in MyNewSchool.

The New School does not transfer grades or grade points from other schools. Only credits are transferred. Approved transfer credit will be posted to the student's transcript.

Advanced Placement (AP) and International Baccalaureate (IB) Examinations
Eugene Lang College awards four college credits for any AP examination in a liberal arts subject for which the student received a score of four or five. For higher IB examinations, the college awards four credits for each liberal arts subject for minimum score of five. No credit is awarded for standard-level examinations. The maximum number of credits that can be awarded on the basis of AP and/or IB examinations is 30. Credits earned by examination count toward general credit requirements only and cannot be used to meet area of study requirements. Some foreign national-level examinations are accepted as well. Official transcriptions must be provided.

College Courses Completed in High School
College-level courses in the liberal arts earned at an accredited college or university prior to high school graduation will be considered for transfer credit to Eugene Lang College. To receive credit, a course must have been completed with a grade of C or better (C− will not transfer). Pass/fail courses and courses otherwise not graded may be considered for credit if accompanied by documentation showing that they would have earned a grade of C or better if the course had been graded. Credits received for vocational or pre-professional courses (such as nursing, home economics, and health education) are not transferable. Credits received for internships and independent study may be transferrable but are subject to careful evaluation; the student must submit a description of the work completed and appropriate supporting documents.

FULL-TIME STATUS
All Eugene Lang College degree candidates are admitted as full-time students. Full-time status is defined as being registered for 12 credits or more.

All Lang students pay a flat-rate tuition per semester, which covers 12–19 credits (or 12–21 credits for the combined BA/BFA program).

Students are charged additional tuition on a per-credit basis for more than 19 credits (21 for BA/BFA).

Only juniors and seniors are eligible to carry more than 19 credits in any semester. A student wishing to register for more than 19 credits must petition his or her academic advisor for permission, providing appropriate justification.

ORIENTATION
A week of orientation activities held before the start of classes, helps new students acclimate to academic and social life at Eugene Lang College. It is an opportunity to interact with many members of the New School community and discover the academic and cultural richness of the college, the university, and the city. Orientation activities include advising and counseling, meetings with faculty and fellow students, cultural activities in New York City, workshops in the library and computer facilities, safety workshops, and a Student Services street fair.
IMMUNIZATION REQUIREMENTS

New York State requires that matriculated students enrolling for six or more credits (including equivalency credit) who were born on or after January 1, 1957, provide the university with documentation of their immunity to measles, mumps, and rubella.

All students must also affirm that they have read the material distributed by the university on meningococcal disease and either plan to get an immunization, have documentation of having had a meningococcal immunization, or decline the immunization in writing. All new students receive in their admissions packet an immunization and meningitis documentation form that must be completed and submitted prior to registering for classes. Students who do not submit the form will not be allowed to register.

Information about the measles, mumps, and rubella immunization requirements and meningococcal disease is posted by the university at www.newschool.edu/studentaffairs/health.
FINANCIAL AID AND SCHOLARSHIPS

Student Financial Services
The New School offers comprehensive financial services to degree-seeking students, including significant institutional scholarship support to eligible students based on merit and need. Detailed information regarding applying for financial aid and the types of aid available is available on the university website at www.newschool.edu/studentservices.

Eligible students should apply for assistance under the following federal, state, and institutional aid programs:

Scholarship and Grant Programs
- Federal Pell Grant
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG)
- Federal Academic Competitiveness Grant (ACG)
- New York State Tuition Assistance Program (TAP)
- New York State Aid for Part-Time Study Program (APTS)
- New York State Higher Educational Opportunity Program (HEOP)
- New York State Regents Opportunity Scholarship Program
- New School Scholarships

Loan Programs
- William D. Ford Direct Student Loan Program

HOW TO APPLY

In general, to be eligible to apply for assistance under the programs listed on this page, students must be matriculated in a degree program and be enrolled at least half-time. To be eligible for federal assistance, students must not be in default on or owe a refund to any of the federal aid programs. Students interested in applying for the government and institutional financial assistance programs listed must complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) annually. The New School’s code is 002780. Students are encouraged to file this form electronically at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Completing and submitting the FAFSA enables Student Financial Services to receive a need analysis report or Student Aid Report (SAR) electronically.

International students may be eligible for institutional scholarships. They can apply by completing the online International Student Scholarship Application (link from the Student Financial Services website).

Estimated Cost of Attendance and Determining Eligibility

The Student Aid Report (SAR) allows Student Financial Services to determine a student’s eligibility for institutional scholarship awards and federal aid programs. The expected student contribution and aid from other sources are subtracted from the student expense budget to determine the individual student’s financial need. Thus, a simple expression of the financial aid equation is represented by the following equation:

Student Expense Budget
– Available Resources
= Need

Your student expense budget, also known as your Cost of Attendance (COA), is the foundation on which eligibility for student financial assistance is based. Federal laws regulating the disbursement of funds to students receiving Title IV aid (including Federal Pell Grants, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, Federal Academic Competitiveness Grant, William D. Ford Direct Loans, Federal Perkins Loans, and Federal Work-Study awards), dictate the expense items that can be included when calculating COA budgets. Allowable expenses for the period of enrollment are tuition and fees, books and supplies, room and board, other personal expenses, transportation costs, and federal loan fees.

Details on tuition, fees, and other educational expenses can be obtained by contacting Student Financial Services or visiting www.newschool.edu/studentservices/financialaid.

Public Service Scholarship Programs

City Year Scholarship Program

This scholarship is offered to Lang students in partnership with City Year New York, which was founded in 2003 as a response to the September 11 attacks. The program fosters the spirit of volunteerism in New York City. The New School will offer up to five scholarships of $4,725 to entering Lang freshmen who are graduates of the City Year program. City Year graduates who served one year will receive an award of $4,725 from City Year and $4,725 for each of the four years from The New School. Program graduates who have two years of City Year service will receive $4,725 in each of the freshman and sophomore years from City Year and $4,725 for each of the four years from The New School. Students should submit some documentation of their service and duration to ensure the scholarships are included properly in the financial aid package.

Horatio Alger Scholars

This annual award honors the achievements of outstanding individuals in our society who have succeeded in spite of adversity. Scholarship recipients also receive financial aid counseling and internship and job placement assistance. For more information about the scholarship and how to apply, please visit www.horatioalger.com/.
A liberal arts education at Eugene Lang College offers thorough exposure to the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, and arts—and the opportunity to develop a broad range of intellectual skills. Students are encouraged to participate in the creation and direction of their education, working with faculty advisors to plan their academic roadmap. Preparation and participation are essential in seminar-style classes, each of which is propelled by intense dialogue. The desire to explore and the freedom to imagine shared by students and faculty members contribute to The New School’s distinctive academic community.

General Education at the University

The New School’s academic programs are designed to prepare students to be productive citizens in the 21st century. In addition to mastery of discipline-specific competencies, the university expects all of its graduates to be able to demonstrate the capacity to think critically; to analyze quantitative and/or scientific constructs; to communicate effectively both orally and in writing; and to use appropriate technologies as tools for collecting information.

ACADEMIC MAJORS AND MINORS

Students are required to complete one of the following majors for graduation. Information about requirements can be found in each Areas of Study section of this catalog.

Majors

Bachelor of Arts degrees:

- The Arts (concentrations in Arts in Context, Dance, Music, Theater, and Visual Arts)
- Culture and Media
- Economics
- Education Studies
- Environmental Studies (BA students can concentrate in Urban Ecosystems or Environment, Society and Public Policy; see also Environmental Studies BS below.)
- Global Studies
- History
- Interdisciplinary Science
- Liberal Arts (self-designed program; there are some optional guided areas of study, such as Social Inquiry)
- Literary Studies (concentrations in Literature and Writing)
- Philosophy
- Politics
- Psychology
- Urban Studies

Bachelor of Science degree:

Environmental Studies (BS students can concentrate in Urban Ecosystems or Sustainable Design; see also Environmental Studies BA above.)

Minors and Optional Areas of Study

Students majoring in Liberal Arts may not elect a minor nor a double major. Students who are not majoring in Liberal Arts have the option to elect an academic minor, although a minor is not required. Lang students can minor in any of the major disciplines except Liberal Arts, Environmental Studies, and Urban Studies (see list below), provided it is not their major area of study. Note that a student who majors in an area of study with multiple concentrations (e.g. The Arts), cannot minor in the same area of study with a different concentration.

Students can study the subjects below as minors (non-Liberal Arts majors) or as guided areas of study (Liberal Arts majors):

- The Arts: Dance, Music, Theater, Visual Arts
- Chinese Studies
- Culture and Media
- Economics
- Education Studies
- Ethnicity and Race
- French Studies
- Gender Studies
- Global Studies
- Hispanic Studies
- History
- Interdisciplinary Science
- Japanese Studies
- Jewish Studies
- Literary Studies: Literature or Writing
- Philosophy
- Politics
- Psychology
- Religious Studies

Declaring a Major

Every student must declare a major at the beginning of the fourth semester or not later than the beginning of the fifth semester (except that transfer students entering with 60 credits may take one additional semester before declaring.) Students are permitted to change majors after consulting with their faculty advisor, but any student contemplating a change of major must make sure they have time to complete the required courses in the new area of study.

- Every major requires at least of 13 courses, including senior work. Environmental Studies and Global Studies could entail more than 13 courses due to studio and foreign language requirements respectively.
- As part of their major, students must complete a senior work project, either a senior seminar or an independent or collaborative project. This is normally counted as one of the required courses.
- For any course to count toward the major requirements, a grade of C or better must be awarded. NOTE: Some programs require higher minimum grades in core courses.
- Each student works out, in consultation with a faculty advisor, a program of study that fulfills the area of study requirements and satisfies the student’s academic interests.
• The chair or director of an area of study has the final decision as to which courses count toward fulfillment of the requirements and whether to permit exceptions. The following general policies apply to all:
  ○ Internship credit is not applicable toward any major or area of study unless specifically approved by the director of that program. The director must give written approval to the Academic Advising Office for placement in the student’s academic file.
  ○ Students can apply up to three courses offered by other divisions of the university to meet their major requirements as long as the courses are approved by the student’s faculty advisor.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Bachelor of Arts: Successful completion of 120 credits, including at least 90 liberal arts credits and no more than 30 credits in non-liberal arts courses (defined as studio and practice-based courses and internships).

Bachelor of Science (Environmental Studies only): Successful completion of a minimum of 120 credits, with no more than 60 credits in non-liberal arts courses (defined as studio and practice-based courses and internships).

All students (BA and BS programs) must take the following courses:

• Writing the Essay 1 and 2
• First Year Workshop
• Advising Seminar
• Reading NYC
• Two University Lecture (ULEC) courses (Note: BA/BFA and transfer students entering with sophomore status or higher are exempt from this requirement, unless their major requires a particular ULEC course.)

All students must also comply with the following policies:

• Students who entered as freshmen must earn at least 40 credits in 3000-level or higher courses
• Completion of all the course requirements for a Lang major (a minimum of 13 courses, including a senior capstone
• Senior-year residency (All prospective graduates must spend their final two semesters in residence at Eugene Lang College.)

Policies for Transfer Students

Students can transfer in a maximum of 60 credits. Note, the divisional residency requirement is prorated for transfer students: One semester = 72 credits; two semesters = 56 credits; three semesters = 44 credits; and four semesters = 32 credits. Students can participate in a domestic or foreign exchange program even if it causes their divisional residency to exceed the number of pro-rated credits.

• Students who begin as freshmen must complete at least 40 credits of higher-level courses. The required number of credits in higher-level courses is pro-rated for transfer students (5 credits per semester of transferred classes).

• All transfer students must take at least three courses offered by Eugene Lang College in their first semester at the college.

• Transfer students may receive approval to apply up to three total courses (9 credits) taken at other institutions to fulfill major or requirements. Those admitted with 30 to 44 credits may apply 1 or 2 courses; those admitted with 45 to 60 credits may apply up to three courses. This is subject in all cases to evaluation by the chair or director of the Lang program. Students may be required to provide course syllabi for evaluation.

Double Majors, Double Minors, and Double Concentrations at Lang

Students who wish may be able to complete up to two majors and/or two minors as part of their course of study. Students completing a double major receive one degree with both majors noted on the transcript. Completing a double major requires fulfillment of all the requirements for both degree programs (with approval from the chairs of both programs). The senior capstone may be either a joint project or the senior seminar from one of the majors. The second option requires the approval of chairs from both programs. No more than three courses may be applied toward both majors. Students interested in a double-major should consult with advisors in both programs to learn whether completing the two majors, even with “double-counting” three courses, would significantly increase the length of time the student would need to graduate.

Similarly, students can complete two minors, where offered, by fulfilling all the requirements for both minor programs. Since a minor requires fewer courses in total, no more than two courses may be applied toward both minors (or to a major/minor combination).

Where concentrations are offered within a major, a student may be able to complete two concentrations, but no more than two courses may be applied toward both concentrations.

Restrictions:

• Students who major in Liberal Arts cannot elect either a minor or a double major.
• Students pursuing a BS in Environmental Studies can complete a minor but not a double major. However, students pursuing a BA in Environmental Studies can pursue a second major or a minor.
• Students cannot receive a dual degree BA/BS, so cannot earn a double major by earning a BS in one subject area and a BA in another.
BA/BFA DUAL DEGREE PROGRAMS

Lang students who wish to pursue a liberal arts education and a studio program in art or music can enter the university's five-year dual BA/BFA degree program and complete both a Bachelor of Arts degree at Lang and a Bachelor of Fine Arts at either Parsons The New School for Design or The New School for Jazz and Contemporary Music.

BA/BFA Degree Requirements

- Successful completion of 180 credits, including at least 90 credits in liberal arts courses and 90 credits in non-liberal arts (studio and practice-based) courses
  - Parsons BA/BFA students must take Writing the Essay 1 and 2
  - Jazz BA/BFA students must take only Writing the Essay 1.
- A minimum of 44 credits must be earned in Eugene Lang College courses (at least one Lang course during every semester in residence)
- Completion of the requirements for a Lang major
- University Lectures (ULEC) courses are not required, unless a particular ULEC course is required by the student’s Lang major.
- Completion of all BFA program requirements as defined by Parsons or Jazz (Note for transfer students: Transferability of studio credits is determined by the Parsons or Jazz office of admission).

BA/BFA students, whether Parsons or Jazz, are not required to complete the Advising Seminar, First-Year Workshop, or Reading NYC. Students who have questions about the BA components of the dual degree program, including questions about transfer credits, should consult the Lang advising office.

BACHELOR’S/MASTER’S PROGRAMS

Students can accelerate their progress toward a master’s degree by combining an undergraduate program at Eugene Lang College with graduate-level courses in one of the university’s graduate schools. During their junior year, students who plan on going to graduate school can apply for acceptance to a Bachelors/Masters program (see below for credit requirements). If admitted, a student can earn up to 12 swing credits (equivalent to one semester of graduate school) applicable toward both degrees, assuming that the student applies for and is admitted to the graduate program upon completion of the bachelor’s degree. Courses must be taken at the graduate level to qualify as swing credits. The benefits of the program include less time needed to complete the master’s degree, a significant tuition savings, more access to graduate-level courses as an undergraduate, and waiver of the Graduate Record Examination and application fees when applying to the graduate program.

Applicants must have completed or be in the process of completing at least 60 undergraduate credits. Transfer students must have completed or be in the process of completing at least one full year in residence at Lang. We recommend that interested students contact the graduate program office of admission or attend an information session to learn more. We also recommend that applicants consult with the senior class advisor at Lang, Jemima Gedeon (GedeonJ@newschool.edu), for guidance throughout the application process.

The application deadline is October 15 for spring admission and March 15 for fall admission. More information and an application is available at www.newschool.edu/bama.

The following Bachelor’s/Master’s combinations are available:

- BA/MA or BA/MS
- BS/MA or BS/MS

Students earning a BA degree in Liberal Arts at Eugene Lang College may apply into the dual degree option with one of the following graduate programs:

- Anthropology MA degree (NSSR)
- Economics MA degree (NSSR)
- Environmental Policy and Sustainability Management MS (NSPE)
- Historical Studies MA degree (NSSR)
- International Affairs MA degree (NSPE)
- Liberal Studies MA degree (NSSR)
- Media Studies MA degree (NSPE)
- Non-profit Management MS degree (NSPE)
- Organizational Change Management MS degree (NSPE)
- Philosophy MA degree (NSSR)
- Politics MA degree (NSSR)
- Psychology MA degree (NSSR)
- Sociology MA degree (NSSR)
- Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages MA degree (NSPE)
- Urban Policy Analysis and Management MS degree (NSPE)

Eugene Lang College students may apply into the following state-approved dual degree combinations:

- BA in Culture and Media/MA in Media Studies
- BA in Economics/MA in Economics
- BA in Environmental Studies/MS in Environmental Policy and Sustainability Management
- BA in Global Studies/MA in International Affairs
- BA in Global Studies/MA in Media Studies
- BA in History/MA in Historical Studies
- BA in Philosophy/MA in Philosophy
- BA in Politics/MA in Politics
- BA in Psychology/MA in Psychology
- BA in Urban Studies/MS in Urban Policy Analysis and Management
- BS in Environmental Studies/MS in Environmental Policy and Sustainability Management

Any undergraduate major/graduate program combination other than those listed above is not approved. Newly approved dual-degree and double major options will be published on the university website under Academics Policy Information at www.newschool.edu/reginfo/.
Due to the lack of clear distinctions between degrees, the following are NOT options for dual-degrees at The New School:

- BA/BS
- BA/BBA
- BS/BBA
- BS/BFA
- BBA/BFA

CURRICULUM AND COURSES

First Year

Students are expected to complete 30 credits their first year including the following:

Fall Semester

- FY Advising Seminar (4 cr.)
- FY Workshop with peer advisor (2 cr.)
- Writing the Essay I (4 cr.)

Spring Semester

- Reading NYC (2 cr.)
- Writing the Essay II (4 cr.)

The First Year Advising Seminar, limited to 15 students per class, offers students close contact with their faculty advisors. The primary content of these seminars differs with each faculty member, but all are structured to develop skills and knowledge that students use throughout their studies at Lang and beyond.

Below is a sampling of First Year Advising Seminars offered by Lang. Courses change each year. For updated course listings with descriptions, please go to the Lang website.

The First Year Workshop helps students make the transition to college and empowers them to understand and make the most of Lang’s particular approach to education: seminar pedagogy, student-directed learning, interdisciplinarity, learning from the city, and civic engagement.

Writing the Essay Seminars help students write college-level essays, think critically, develop ideas, and research issues. Writing the Essay I offers a set of thematic courses focusing on expository writing skills, interpretive and analytical essays, development of clear prose, and the peer review and revision process. Writing the Essay II offers more focus on academic writing, an introduction to research writing, and the development of more forceful and coherent prose.

Reading NYC instructors use their academic and professional specialties to help students see New York in new ways while introducing academic subjects. These courses typically include field trips and excursions.

Freshman and Sophomore Breadth Requirement

A liberal arts education provides students with the skills to think critically and creatively. Students at Lang are encouraged to take advantage of the variety of areas of study offered at the college and the university to broaden their knowledge of themselves and the world.

To that end, students with fewer than 60 credits may not take more than two courses in one area of study in the same semester. For example, students with fewer than 60 credits may take no more than two courses designated LTHR (Theater) at one time.

Integrative Courses

In general, an integrative course teaches ways of thinking and inquiring in more than one discipline. It is often the first course a student takes in an area of study. When students identify an area they are particularly interested in, they may go on to study that subject in depth within the major or disciplinary program.

Sophomore Year

Students are encouraged to look into study abroad, internship opportunities, and civic engagement. They also begin to focus on their own academic interests. In the second semester (prior to completing 60 credits), students are expected to declare a major. They must declare before the registration period for the junior year or risk a registration hold. Transfer students admitted with junior standing have a grace period of one semester in which to declare a major. Students may declare a major sooner if they are certain of their focus. For more information, schedule an appointment with the sophomore class advisor or visit the website at www.newschool.edu/lang/subpage.aspx?id=414.

Junior Year

In their junior year, students take upper-level courses for more in-depth study of their academic interests. During this year, they clarify the requirements for their declared majors and determine which requirements remain to be satisfied. They also explore how these academic interests fit into their post-graduation plans and continue to participate in experiential programs such as internships, study abroad, and civic engagement. All students at Lang must complete a senior capstone requirement in their major or interdisciplinary program. In the second semester of their junior year, they conduct preliminary research for the capstone project. The senior capstone requirement can be satisfied with an individual project, a collaborative project, or (in some programs) a special seminar. Be aware that a senior seminar may have course prerequisites. At least two semesters before graduation, students also should meet with their class advisor and/or chair for a graduation audit to ensure all degree requirements will be satisfied. Visit the website at www.newschool.edu/lang/subpage.aspx?id=428 for more information.

Senior Year
All seniors must indicate how they plan to satisfy the senior capstone requirement by filling out a declaration form available from the academic department or Academic Advising. The capstone requirement must be completed in the student’s major unless a special exception is made. Students should consult with the chair (or designee) of their department before the proposal is submitted. In most cases, students receive four credits for the capstone. The requirement can be fulfilled in either the fall or spring semester of the senior year, provided prerequisites are satisfied. More information, including important deadline information, is available at www.newschool.edu/lang/subpage.aspx?id=2442

Beyond the Classroom
Lang offers a number of educational opportunities outside the classroom—in New York City, other areas of the United States, and around the world.

Experiential Courses
Lang experiential courses open up the intellectual and cultural richness of New York City. Many provide students with tickets to cultural or artistic sites and events. Recent offerings include Arts in NYC, Lang at the Guggenheim, Lang at Judson Church, and Seeing Performance.

Lang Outdoors and Wellness Courses
These courses, denoted by the subject code LWEL, offer physical challenges while exploring political, cultural, and environmental issues. Recent offerings include Urban Cycling, Community Gardens, and Urban Forestry. Visit www.newschool.edu/lang/outdoors/ for more information.

Independent Study
A junior or senior with prior coursework in a specific area may undertake independent study to explore a focused topic not normally offered in the curriculum. The student works with a full-time faculty mentor who has agreed to supervise the independent project. Proposals for independent study must be submitted prior to the semester in which they are to be carried out. The student must complete an independent study contract, which includes a description of the proposed course of study, a bibliography or reading list, and the schedule of planned contacts with the advisor. The contract also requires the signatures of the supervising faculty member, departmental chair, and associate dean. A student may not register for independent study without the written approval of the associate dean. The contract form is available in the associate dean’s office and the Academic Advising Office.

Seminar Fellows
Qualified students earn credits for facilitating First-Year Workshops. Seminar Fellows must attend training before the semester begins and register for a weekly Teaching and Learning Seminar (4 credits) in the semester for which they direct the workshop. Seminar fellows develop skills in teaching and advising and explore vocations in education, psychology, and civic engagement by planning classes on academic and college transition and by mentoring individuals. Apply through the Academic Advising Office.

Math and Science Fellows
Qualified students work with a faculty mentor who is teaching an introductory level science and math course, helping to develop learning activities and rubrics and assisting the instructor in class in implementing and assessing those activities. They also serve as peer tutors for students in the class. Fellows explore the theoretical framework of science education, pedagogies of engagement, and assessment student learning. They research the literature on the challenges of science and math learning and approaches to addressing those challenges. To apply for this independent study program, contact Professor Venkataraman, the chair of the Natural Sciences and Math department: venkatab@newschool.edu.

Internship Program
Internships and civic engagement are invaluable components of the Lang experience. Student interns receive professional guidance, gain practical experience, develop confidence in their abilities, and establish a professional network of contacts. First-time interns seeking credit must register for Internship Seminar. Students can receive academic credit for internships in almost any field, but internship credit will not be applicable toward any major or guided area of study requirements unless specifically approved by the chair or director of the Lang program.

Lang internship advisors work with the Office of Career Development to help students find internships. Attend their programs and explore their website for more information at www.newschool.edu/lang/internships/.

Civic Engagement and Social Justice
Civic engagement brings communities into contact with each other and creates spaces where the relationship between power, knowledge, and social action can be studied. At Lang, social justice is considered the ethical core of liberal arts education, so learning through civic engagement courses, projects, and programs is much more than volunteer work; it integrates purposeful public service with academic instruction and reflection. Lang students can participate in alternative spring break trips, intern with grassroots organizations addressing community issues, engage in domestic and international community-based courses, or receive a fellowship in support of a proposed social justice project.
among other options. For more information, contact langcesj@newschool.edu.

Study Abroad and Domestic Study Opportunities

Many Lang students spend a semester, academic year, winter break, or summer taking courses, working at internships, or pursuing volunteer projects abroad and around the United States. With proper research and planning, a Lang student could, potentially, study anywhere in the world. Lang offers its own faculty-led programs during the winter break and summer and has foreign and domestic exchange opportunities with a number of other universities. (Study at unaffiliated institutions requires special approval.)

Students studying abroad or away may take courses toward their area of study at the host institution, subject to preliminary review and final approval upon their return. As transfer courses, there is a limit to the total number that can be applied to the major or minor (see Transfer Credits for Continuing Students in this section).

Study away from The New School is normally undertaken in the sophomore or junior year. Students should consult with their faculty advisor and academic advisor in advance. Students who have already declared a major should also consult with the chair or director of their program. This meeting should occur early enough to ensure that the proposed exchange program fits the student’s course of study and leaves enough time to fulfill the senior residency and graduation requirements. Study away is normally approved for one semester, and extensions must approved in advance by the assistant dean of students.

Although choosing a program and preparing for studying abroad is self-directed, administrative support and professional guidance are available throughout the process. Lang has a study abroad advisor who helps students match programs with their educational and personal goals and gives information about financial aid opportunities.

Recent international opportunities include programs in Cambodia, France, Italy, Netherlands, Poland, Scotland, and South Africa. Recent domestic opportunities include programs with the Cooper Union for the Advancement of Science and Art in New York City, Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, New York, and Spelman College in Atlanta, Georgia.

Study abroad and domestic exchange opportunities are constantly evolving. For up-to-date information, including deadlines and prerequisites, go to www.newschool.edu/lang/exchange-programs/ on the website and contact Kim Foote (footek@newschool.edu), the study abroad advisor.

Summer Study

Eugene Lang College does not offer a summer term. However, students can earn credits by taking summer internships and faculty-led study abroad programs (see above). Students may take a maximum of 12 credits in summer courses offered by Lang or other divisions of The New School and a maximum of nine credits at other colleges or universities. Policies relating to transfer credits for continuing students apply.

Transfer Credits for Continuing Students

Continuing students who plan to take courses at another accredited institution must obtain advance approval in order to transfer those credits to Lang. Provided satisfactory grades are earned (minimum C), the credits can be approved and posted onto the student’s transcript by the Office of the Registrar.

The New School does not transfer letter grades or grade points, only credits. Normally, transfer credits count toward general credit requirements and will not automatically satisfy course requirements for a particular major or program. To have transfer credits accepted for a specific course requirement, a student must consult with the chair or director of the area of study and provide a detailed course description or syllabus for review. The chair will decide whether a course taken elsewhere fulfills a major program requirement. Note the following limitations in any case:

- For students admitted with 30-44 transfer credits, no more than one transfer course may be applied to Lang major requirements.
- For students admitted with 45-60 credits, no more than three transfer courses may be accepted toward the major requirements.

Prerequisites for advanced courses in a particular subject may be met by transfer credits if the courses are approved by the chair of the New School department.

University Curriculum

University Lecture courses focus on interdisciplinary themes or introduce a single discipline. The courses are three credits and students must sign up for the accompanying discussion section. Lang students entering as freshman are required to complete a minimum of two university lecture courses (identified by the subject code ULEC) by graduation. While the courses may be taken at any point in a student’s academic career, students are encouraged to take them during the second year.
Sampling of ULEC Courses

Below is a sampling of recent University Lecture Course titles. Courses and the semesters offered can vary. For updated course listings with descriptions, go to the website at www.newschool.edu/lang/courses and search by subject code ULEC.

Fall 2013
ULEC 2030 Introduction to Microeconomics
ULEC 2160 Introduction to Psychology
ULEC 2320 Aesthetics
ULEC 2510 Intro to Feminist Thought
ULEC 2610 Not-Owning: Designing
ULEC 2620 The Dynamic Metropolis
ULEC 2640 Old Weird America: Music as Democratic Speech
ULEC 2750 Whose Street? Wall Street!
ULEC 2760 Obama vs. X: Election

Spring 2013
ULEC 2020 Intro to Macroeconomics
ULEC 2490 Design at the Edge
ULEC 2550 The End of Art
ULEC 2560 Fiction: An Introduction
ULEC 2590 Global Environmental Politics
ULEC 2650 Political Journalism, Past and Present
ULEC 2690 Collaborating In & Beyond Music
ULEC 2730 Power, Knowledge, Vision
ULEC 2800 The New School Century
ULEC 2920 Displaying Sustainable Building

Other University Courses can be found in UGLB (Global Studies), UENV (Environmental Studies) and UURB (Urban Studies) and are open to all Lang students. No special permission is needed, however there may be pre-requisites for specific courses.

Foreign Language Study

The Department of Foreign Languages in The New School for Public Engagement (NSPE) offers courses in more than 15 languages open to all full and part-time students at the university. Designed to meet the needs of Lang degree students, courses in Arabic, Chinese, French, Italian, Japanese, Latin, and Spanish are offered during the day. Lang students interested in studying German, Portuguese, Russian, American Sign Language, and Yiddish can take evening courses offered through the continuing education program of NSPE.

Students who have studied a language in high school or college can place themselves in the appropriate level by using the following formula: One year of high school foreign language equals one semester of foreign language study (i.e., one four-credit course) at the college level. For example, a student who has completed four years of high school Spanish should enroll in Spanish Advanced 1.

Students with a score of four on an Advanced Placement test in a foreign language should enroll in Advanced Level 1.

Students with a five should enroll in either Advanced Level 1 or 2.

Students with questions or with reason to believe that this does not accurately measure their knowledge of a foreign language (e.g., it has been several years since they last studied the language) should either call 212.229.5676 or email foreignlanguages@newschool.edu to set up an appointment to discuss alternate placement.

Courses at Other Divisions of the University

Lang students may be able to take courses offered by other divisions of the university. NOTE, these courses will not necessarily fulfill major requirements, therefore the student should consult the department chair. Courses offered throughout the university can be found at http://www.newschool.edu/ucc/courses.aspx, and catalogs of other divisions are available at each division’s website.

In addition, note that studio and performance courses taken at other divisions count toward the 30 credits maximum of non-liberal arts coursework applicable to a BA degree and the 60 credits maximum of non-liberal arts coursework applicable to a BS degree.

Parsons The New School for Design

Parsons courses open to students from Eugene Lang College, most in art history, are included in the Lang online schedule. All cross-listed courses are denoted with the subject prefix PL, such as PLAH (Art History) or PLFS (Fashion Studies). Lang students register for these courses as usual through MyNewSchool, and no special permission is required. Most other Parsons courses are restricted due to artistic prerequisites and limited studio space. Lang students can however request special permission to register in courses not cross-listed. With prior approval of the Lang academic advisor, a student can contact the department at Parsons offering a course of interest and speak with an advisor there. If the Parsons department gives permission, the students will be able to register online for the class. Please visit www.parsons.edu/continuing_ed/courses.

The New School for Drama

Unless otherwise indicated in the online course catalog, undergraduate students from Lang cannot register for courses at The New School for Drama.

The New School for Public Engagement

The New School for Public Engagement (NSPE) offers courses in foreign languages for undergraduate students in all divisions (see Foreign Language Study on the previous page).

NSPE also offers continuing education courses for undergraduate credit in many disciplines. Except for foreign language courses, only juniors and seniors at Lang are permitted to register for NSPE courses, and they cannot register for more than two continuing education courses in any semester. Continuing education courses (except foreign languages) are considered non-Lang credits and do not count toward the minimum requirement of 88 credits completed in residence at Lang. Learn more about areas of study, courses, and certificates at www.newschool.edu/continuing-education. Continuing education courses may default to noncredit at registration; make sure you are registered for credit.

Mannes The New School for Music

Mannes’ extension division offers conservatory courses in instrumental and vocal performance, composition, conducting, music theory, music history, technology, and opera. Permission to register for music courses is based on space availability, program approval, and the completion of prerequisites. Some performance and orchestra courses require an audition or placement test. Again, Lang treats Mannes extension credits as transfer credits. For more information, visit www.mannes.edu/extension/index.jsp or call 212.580.0210 x4825.

The New School for Jazz and Contemporary Music

Students from other divisions are generally restricted from taking Jazz performance classes but certain academic courses (music history) and ensemble workshops (Gospel Choir for example) are cross-listed. Jazz courses often have sequenced prerequisites and limited enrollment. Students interested in a course that is not crosslisted, must speak with director of academic affairs at Jazz.

Graduate Programs

The New School for Social Research (NSSR) offers courses in anthropology, economics, historical studies, liberal studies, philosophy, politics, psychology, and sociology. The New School for Public Engagement (NSPE) offers courses in subjects such as Media Studies and English as a Second Language. The Milano School of International Affairs, Management, and Urban Policy in NSPE offers courses in international affairs, urban policy analysis, nonprofit management, organizational change, and environmental and sustainability management.

Lang students can take selected courses at both graduate divisions. The approved courses are cross-listed in the online class schedule and other published registration materials. All cross-listed graduate courses are numbered at the 4400- and 4500-level and designated with an undergraduate subject code (e.g., L HIS (History) or LPOL (Politics)).

However, Lang students accepted to the BA/MA or BA/MS program should consult with the appropriate graduate advisor before each registration period. The contact information for the designated advisor in each graduate program is available on the departmental website. Students can also be referred through the Academic Advising Office at Lang. Dual degree students should be careful to register for graduate courses using the graduate course numbers, even if the course is also crosslisted with an undergraduate number. This procedure ensures that the course will appear on the student’s transcript as a graduate course and count toward the 12 “swing” credits that accelerate completion of the master’s degree.

Juniors and seniors who are not enrolled in an accelerated BA/MA option who wish to take graduate courses that are not cross-listed must petition their Lang academic advisor. Before submitting a petition, the student must obtain written permission from the student advisor in the graduate department, the course instructor, and the undergraduate chair or director of the area of study. The signed petition is submitted to the Lang academic advisor, and the students will be notified by email of the Lang advisor’s decision. An approval will include instructions about the process to register online for the class using the appropriate graduate program course number. Note: graduate courses taken by undergraduates count only toward the bachelor’s unless the student has been formally accepted to the bachelor’s/master’s dual degree option.

THE ARTS

The Arts curriculum highlights the arts within a liberal arts framework, balancing broader academic study and research with creative experimentation and hands-on practice. It also advances The New School’s traditional commitment to social engagement and cultural inquiry, treating the arts as a powerful tool for social awareness and progressive change. Eugene Lang College students may major in The Arts (BA) and focus on one of five concentrations: Dance, Music, Theater, Visual Arts, and Arts in Context. Students can also study Dance, Music, Theater, or Visual Arts as a minor (non-Liberal Arts majors) or as a guided area of study (Liberal Arts majors). Only specific courses satisfy the major and minor requirements, including electives. Courses should be chosen carefully in consultation with an advisor. Students must receive grades of C or better in all courses taken to fulfill major or minor requirements.

The Arts Full-Time Faculty

Chinese Studies has two goals: to give students a substantial introduction to the Chinese language and to introduce them to Chinese cultures and society through the study of translated works. For more information about this program, please go to the Lang website.

Lang students can pursue Chinese Studies as a minor (non-Liberal Arts majors), or a guided area of study (Liberal Arts majors). Only specific courses satisfy the minor requirements, including electives. Some courses have rotating subtitles, and the content might change from one semester to another, allowing a course to be taken more than once. Courses should be chosen carefully in consultation with an advisor. Students must receive grades of C or better in all courses taken to fulfill minor requirements.

Minor

The minor in Chinese Studies requires two years of Chinese language and two elective courses (taught in English), which may be taken in a variety of subjects.

Lei Ping
Culture and Media majors acquire a variety of scholarly and practical abilities: a broad understanding of cultural and technological histories, concepts, debates, politics, and practices; a comparative perspective; application of different media as a tool of civic engagement; and production skills in digital media. For more information about this program, please go to the Lang website.

Students can study Culture and Media as a major (BA), a minor (non-Liberal Arts majors), or a guided area of study (Liberal Arts majors). Only specific courses satisfy the major and minor requirements, including electives. Courses should be chosen carefully in consultation with an advisor. Students must receive grades of C or better in all courses taken in order to fulfill major or minor requirements in Culture and Media (and B or better in the Introductory core courses in order to declare the major).

Major

In consultation with a faculty advisor, students may complete a general track or a focused area of study in Culture, Media, or Screen.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

Environmental Studies focuses on three disciplines: science, urban studies, and design. Students use New York City, one of the world's largest urban ecosystems, as their laboratory. For more information about the program, please go to the Lang website.

Lang students can pursue Environmental Studies as a major only (BA or BS). Three concentrations are offered: Urban Ecosystems, Sustainable Design, and Public Policy. Credit for a concentration is earned by completing three 3000- or 4000-level courses approved for that concentration. Students are encouraged, but not required, to choose a concentration.

Only specific courses satisfy the major requirements, including electives. All courses are not offered each semester. Courses should be carefully chosen in consultation with an advisor. Students must receive grades of C or better in all courses taken to fulfill major requirements.

Major

The BA degree in Environmental Studies requires successful completion of 15 courses distributed as described below and the senior capstone/directed research project. The BS degree course distribution requirements are the same plus three additional studio courses (for a total of 18 courses).

ETHNICITY AND RACE

This curriculum is an opportunity for students to supplement their majors. This interdisciplinary area of study draws from courses offered across the university to investigate the critical issues pertaining to race and ethnicity in academic, artistic, and political discourses.

Students can study Ethnicity and Race as a minor (non-Liberal Arts majors) or a guided area of study (Liberal Arts majors). Only specific courses satisfy the minor requirements, including electives. Courses should be carefully chosen in consultation with an advisor. Students must receive grades of C or better in all courses taken to fulfill the minor requirements.

FRENCH STUDIES

This curriculum is an opportunity for students to supplement their Lang majors with focused courses in the language, literature, and civilization of France and the francophone world. For more information go to the Lang website.

Lang students can pursue French Studies as a minor (non-Liberal Arts majors), or a guided area of study (Liberal Arts majors).

Only specific courses satisfy the minor requirements, including electives. Students who go on a Study Abroad program with partner institutions such as The American University in Paris may use some of the AUP courses to meet French Studies minor requirements. Some courses have rotating subtitles, and the content might change from one semester to another, allowing a course to be taken more than once. Courses should be chosen carefully in consultation with a French Studies advisor. Students must receive grades of C or better in all courses taken to fulfill the minor.

Global Studies is an interdisciplinary program focusing on contemporary challenges that by definition cannot be solved at the nation-state or market level. Global Studies takes seriously The New School’s founding promise to prepare new generations of citizens and leaders in the service of a more just and equitable world.

Lang students can pursue Global Studies as a major (BA), a minor (non-Liberal Arts majors), or a guided area of study (Liberal Arts majors).

Only specific courses satisfy the major and minor requirements, including electives, and only designated experiences satisfy the Global Engagement requirement. All courses are not offered each semester. Courses and thematic clusters should be chosen carefully in consultation with a Global Studies advisor. Thematic clusters for electives are Places, Peoples, and Encounters; Markets and States; Networks and Hierarchies; Rights, Justice, and Governance; and Global Spaces (Urban, Media and Environment). Students must receive grades of C or better in all courses taken to fulfill major or minor requirements (and B or better in the introductory core courses to declare the major).

INTERDISCIPLINARY SCIENCE

This unique curriculum spans the natural sciences to explore the connections between science and society by engaging with public policy issues such as stem cell research, access to clean water, alternative energies, and nanotechnology. For more information about the program, go to the Lang website.

Students can study Interdisciplinary Science as a major (BA), a minor (non-Liberal Arts majors), or a guided area of study (Liberal Arts majors). Only specific courses satisfy the requirements, including electives. Courses should be chosen carefully in consultation with an advisor. Students must receive grades of C or better in all courses taken to fulfill major or minor requirements.

Major

Students majoring in Interdisciplinary Science complete either a general track or a focused track in Biology of Health, Science of the Environment, or History and Philosophy of Science.

JAPANESE STUDIES

The minor in Japanese Studies has two goals: introduce students to the Japanese language; and introduce them to Japanese culture in translation through courses in literature, history, religion, film, philosophy, art history, and sociology. For more information, go to the Lang website.

Lang students can pursue Japanese Studies as a minor (non-Liberal Arts majors) or a guided area of study (Liberal Arts majors). Only specific courses satisfy requirements. Some courses have rotating subtitles, and the content might change from one semester to another, allowing a course to be taken more than once. Courses should be chosen carefully in consultation with an advisor. Students must receive grades of C or better in all courses taken to fulfill minor requirements.

LIBERAL ARTS

The self-designed program in Liberal Arts is a major that enables a student to bring together themes, methods, and questions from across the Lang curriculum to create a self-reflexive and challenging intellectual project. For more information, go to the Lang website.

Liberal Arts is not a minor. Students who major in Liberal Arts (BA) cannot elect a minor nor a double major. Those who wish may pursue a focused area of study as part of the self-designed path of study. Courses must be chosen in consultation with an advisor, and students should communicate with instructors before they register to establish the connections between a particular course and the student’s self-designed path of study. Students must receive grades of C or better in all courses taken to fulfill major requirements.

Major

The major in Liberal Arts requires completion of the Path Statement and a minimum of 13 courses. Detailed information about the path statement, including required elements and selection criteria, is provided on the website. Path statements must be approved by and revisited regularly with the chair.

LITERARY STUDIES

The Literary Studies major provides a dynamic collaborative environment for students to write, revise, and analyze poetry, drama, fiction, nonfiction, journalism, and literary criticism. There are two concentrations: Literature and Writing. Students in Literature develop a distinctive critical-analytical voice and firm grounding in literary theory and history and their vocabularies. Students in Writing develop a unique authorial voice informed by a practiced familiarity with contemporary and classic styles.

Students can study Literary Studies as a major (BA), a minor (non-Liberal Arts majors), or a guided area of study (Liberal Arts majors). Only specific courses satisfy requirements, including electives. Courses should be chosen carefully in consultation with an advisor.

All students must receive grades of C or better in all courses taken to fulfill major or minor requirements. Writing concentration students must receive a B or better in the Introductory Workshop to advance to the Intermediate level in the same genre. Those who do not earn the minimum grade will be required to retake the Introductory Workshop.

URBAN STUDIES

Through a shared core curriculum with Parsons The New School for Design, Urban Studies blends liberal arts with studio design courses and civic engagement partnerships with community-based and local government organizations. Students investigate the social, cultural, political, economic, and environmental implications of city life in the 21st century. For more information, go to the Lang website.

Lang students can take Urban Studies as a major (BA) or a guided area of study (Liberal Arts majors). There is no minor in Urban Studies. Only specific courses satisfy the major requirements, including electives. All courses are not offered each semester. Courses should be chosen carefully in consultation with an advisor. Students must receive grades of C or better in all courses taken to fulfill the major requirement.

Guided Area of Study

Students pursuing a Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Arts may not elect an academic minor. However, they may pursue a guided area of study in Urban Studies. Students interested in this option should consult with their advisor and the chair of the Urban Studies program at the outset of their guided studies and before selecting coursework.

Sampling of Courses

Below is a sampling of Urban Studies course titles open to Lang students. Courses may change and semesters may vary. For updated course listings with descriptions, go to the website at www.newschool.edu/interdisciplinary-ugrad/urban-studies.aspx.

PART -TIME FACULTY

The number of courses taught by part-time faculty members in any semester is approximately 100.
STUDENT LIFE

COMMUNICATION WITH STUDENTS

MyNewSchool
MyNewSchool is a customizable Web portal, located at my.newschool.edu, that connects students to the university and to their student records. Students can access their university email, view and update their personal information, participate in online courses, receive announcements, use library resources, check their accounts, see their financial aid award status and academic records, and much more. Most student business is transacted online through MyNewSchool, including registration for classes, payment of tuition and fees, and viewing of final grades. New students are notified when their MyNewSchool accounts have been set up.

Student Email Accounts
The university administration and academic departments routinely communicate with students through New School email. The university provides every degree or credit seeking student with a New School email account. Official communications are made to the New School email address only.

Changes of Address and Telephone Number
Students are responsible for keeping their addresses and telephone numbers current with the university. They can update their contact information whenever necessary through MyNewSchool. University correspondence is mailed to the address designated as “official” or emailed to the student’s New School email address.

STUDENT SERVICES

Student Services offers resources and programs to enrich each student’s experience at The New School and prepare students for a life of responsible citizenship. Student Services provides the following resources:

- Student Housing and Residence Life
- Student Health and Support Services
- International Student Services
- Student Disability Services
- Student Rights and Responsibilities
- Career Development
- Intercultural Support
- Student Development
- Recreation and Intramural Sports

To find out more about Student Services, visit www.newschool.edu/studentservices.

Student Housing and Residence Life
The New School has living and learning spaces for undergraduate and graduate students with amenities to suit individual needs and budgets. All residences and some apartment facilities are fully furnished and staffed by professional residence hall directors and student resident advisors. Through the enthusiasm and creativity of the resident advisors, students who choose to live in university residences are introduced to diverse educational and social activities at The New School and in New York City. All facilities have 24-hour security coverage, and our staff is trained in handling emergencies should the need arise. The Residence Hall Handbook details housing services and residence hall policies essential to creating safe, supportive, and respectful communities.

For students who wish to navigate the metro New York real estate market, listings of rental properties, shared apartments, short-term accommodations, and sublets are available in the Student Housing office. Student Housing will provide a compilation of current listings on request. The Off-Campus Housing Resource Guide provides information about New York City, its neighborhoods, and the ins and outs of the local real estate market. Workshops and one-on-one sessions with the staff are also available. For more information, visit www.newschool.edu/housing.

Students living in certain residence halls are required to enroll in a meal plan. Please review your housing application or visit www.newschool.edu/student-services/meal-plans for more information.

Student Health and Support Services
Student Health and Support Services provides counseling and medical services, promotes student wellness and health, and administers the Student Health Insurance Plan. All degree, diploma, visiting, mobility, graduate certificate, and non-matriculating students in undergraduate and graduate degree programs, including students taking courses only online, are automatically charged a Health Services Fee at registration.

The Medical Services staff of physicians, nurse practitioners, and physician assistants is available to provide treatment for illnesses or injuries, routine health care, and medical advice. The Counseling Services staff of licensed psychologists, clinical social workers, an art therapist, and a psychiatrist provides emotional support and psychological counseling in a supportive environment, working with each student client on a reasonable and helpful plan of action to address the student’s concerns. The Wellness and Health Promotion program empowers students, connects them to information and resources, cultivates healthy attitudes and behaviors, and fosters a culture on campus that values health. Professional health educators meet with students, offer workshops, and provide interactive programs on a variety of topics, including stress reduction, money management, time management, meditation, acupressure, nutrition and cooking, physical activity, smoking cessation, harm reduction, sexual health, HIV/AIDS, depression, sexual assault, and interpersonal violence. For more information, visit www.newschool.edu/studentservices/health.
Student Health Insurance

The university offers students a comprehensive health insurance plan that includes coverage for emergencies, hospitalization, and regular outpatient visits. The Student Health Insurance Plan provides easy access to health care services locally, nationally, and globally. All eligible students are automatically enrolled at registration.

Waivers: Students may be eligible to decline the insurance plan by submitting an online waiver form at the beginning of EVERY fall semester by the posted deadline (or spring semester for students entering in the spring). Access the online waiver form by going to www.universityhealthplans.com (select the “New School” link).

To learn more about the Student Health Insurance Plan and your financial responsibility if you do not waive the insurance, visit www.newschool.edu/studentservices/health.

Career Services

Career Services at The New School promotes a holistic approach to career planning, helping students make sound career decisions to ensure personal and professional growth. Services include career counseling and assessment, résumé and cover letter reviews, mock interviews, and internship and job search guidance. Special events including career workshops, panels, and networking opportunities also take place throughout the year. Visit www.newschool.edu/studentservices/careers for contact information and further details.

International Student Services

The New School is authorized under federal law to enroll non-immigrant alien students. All international students are required to attend an orientation and check in with International Student Services at the beginning of each academic semester. The office checks documents to see that students have been properly admitted into the United States and reviews their rights and responsibilities and government regulations.

The mission of International Student Services is to help international students from other countries reach their full potential and have positive experiences at The New School. Along with the rest of the university community, International Student Services promotes diversity and respect for cultures from all over the world. The office offers workshops, resources, programs, as well as advice and support. Every international student has access to one-on-one advising. For more information, visit www.newschool.edu/studentservices/international.

Student Disability Services

The New School is committed to helping students with disabilities obtain equal access to academic and programmatic services. Student Disability Services assists students who may need special accommodations, as required by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) and Section 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973. If you have a temporary or chronic disability of any kind, please submit medical documentation to Student Disability Services at the beginning of the semester. The staff will advise you on policies and procedures and discuss available support and accommodations. For more information, visit www.newschool.edu/studentservices/disability.

University Student Senate

The University Student Senate (USS) is the official student government of The New School which is comprised of a representative board of voting members from each of the seven divisions. The USS acts as an intermediary between the student population and the administration to create a cohesive community. For more information and to get involved, visit www.newschoolsenate.org.

Intercultural Support/HEOP

The Office of Intercultural Support (OIS) works with students of diverse backgrounds to build community at The New School. OIS offers individual counseling and sponsors events and workshops to promote intercultural awareness. The staff works closely with recognized student organizations and the Social Justice Committee. This office also administers the Arthur O. Eve Higher Education Opportunity Program (HEOP) and oversees the Student Ombuds office. For more information, visit www.newschool.edu/studentservices/intercultural.

Social Justice Committee

The Office of the Provost, committed to making social justice one of The New School’s top priorities, has established a university-wide Social Justice Committee to guide The New School’s efforts to promote a sense of inclusion and fairness among the many social identities, life experiences, intellectual approaches, and personal beliefs represented in our community. A concern for social justice is central to the way in which many understand and relate to The New School. This impulse can be traced in the history of our divisions and programs, which have been concerned with providing access to higher education for working people, serving as a haven for scholars at risk, devising policies that promote equity and democratic governance, designing for democratic participation and social change, and contributing to the public discourse on economic development. For more information, visit www.newschool.edu/provost/social-justice.

UNIVERSITY RESOURCES AND FACILITIES

The New School is located in New York City’s Greenwich Village, with a few facilities elsewhere in Manhattan. For a campus map and building hours visit www.newschool.edu/about.

Libraries

New School libraries offer a full array of workshops and lab classes for students and faculty. Individual reference appointments are available upon request from students and faculty. For information about the New School libraries and the Research Library Consortium of South Manhattan, described below, visit www.library.newschool.edu.

Blackboard
Blackboard is the virtual “classroom” used for online and many on-campus courses. Log in by selecting the Blackboard icon at my.newschool.edu.

University Writing Center
The University Writing Center helps students become better expository writers, offering individual tutoring sessions in every phase of the writing process, from brainstorming ideas to developing an outline or rough draft to revising and editing. In addition, the Center provides mathematics tutoring, ESOL support such as speech and pronunciation, and tutoring in graduate-level academic writing for students enrolled in MA and PhD programs.

The Writing Center works both by appointment and on a walk-in basis. All sessions start on the hour and are 50 minutes long. To schedule an appointment or for more information visit www.newschool.edu/writingcenter.

Computing Facilities
Students have access to the latest technology in the labs and work spaces operated by the office of Academic Technology (AT). For locations of facilities and hours of operation, visit www.newschool.edu/at. Features and services include:
· Mac and Windows open labs with printers
· Computer-equipped presentation classrooms
· Advanced video, audio, Web, print design, 2D and 3D modeling and animation programs
· Research, statistics, and Microsoft Office software
· Private editing suites, an AV recording studio, and a voiceover studio
· Black and white, color, and large format printing, including wireless printing, standard and photographic quality.
· Specialty scanners (oversized, slide, film, and drum)

Questions about AT labs, the equipment center, the print output center, and AT-supported presentation classrooms should be directed to the Academic Technology staff: Email at@newschool.edu or call 212.229.5300 ext. 4538.

Wireless
The New School provides free wireless Internet access throughout the campus. For information visit www.newschool.edu/at/network/wireless.

University Help Desk
The University Help Desk is the point of contact for students, faculty, and staff requiring assistance or information on all university computing issues.

Contact the Help Desk Monday–Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.
Telephone: 212.229.5300 ext. 2828

Policies and Procedures

Registration

The Office of the Registrar registers students for classes, charges tuition and fees, and processes course changes and withdrawals.

Registration Procedures

Registration procedures at The New School vary by school. Students should refer to the Registration Information website (www.newschool.edu/reginfo) each semester for detailed registration instructions specific to their school as well as relevant policy information. Students should follow the registration procedures outlined by their school.

Note the following specifics regarding registration procedures:

- Exact advising and web registration dates will be provided by the student’s division. Generally, new students register over the summer (for the fall term) or in January (for the spring term). Continuing degree students register in April for the following fall term and in November for the following spring term.

- All course registrations must be approved by a departmental advisor and then submitted to the registrar’s office through MyNewSchool or in person. Students who register for a course without an advisor’s approval will be asked to drop the course or may be administratively withdrawn from the course.

- Student Financial Services emails continuing degree students a schedule of classes and a single invoice for tuition and fees several weeks before the start of the semester. Students should verify the accuracy of the schedule. A student is not registered and will not receive credit for courses not appearing on the schedule. Registration is not complete until payment or payment arrangements have been made.

- New students registering over the summer for their first-semester classes are e-mailed an invoice prior to their arrival on campus. Payment is due prior to the first day of classes.

- Students who do not register or who do not make payments by the stated deadlines (see below) will incur late fees. Deadlines for completing registration will not be extended because of delays in clearing registration holds (which may be imposed for reasons including non-payment of tuition or late fees, or for failure to submit vaccination forms).

Registration Holds

In the event that a student fails to satisfy requirements for documentation or payment, the appropriate university office will place a hold preventing further registration. Students should check MyNewSchool at least two weeks prior to registration to see if any holds have been placed on their account. MyNewSchool will indicate the type of hold and the appropriate person or office to contact to resolve the hold. The deadlines for completing registration will not be extended because of delays in clearing holds, and students will be subject to any applicable late fees.

Full-Time and Half-Time Status

For undergraduate degree students, full-time status is defined as enrollment in a minimum of 12 credits per semester. Half-time status is defined as enrollment in a minimum of six credits per semester.

Students with loans or tuition grants from external sources, including New York State TAP awards, should be advised that such programs might require 12 credits for full-time status. It is the student’s responsibility to meet the full-time status requirements as defined by each external source of funds.

Lang students who wish to register for (or drop/withdraw to) part-time status (fewer than 12 credits) must see the Advising Office for special approval. Enrollment as a part-time student could have implications for tuition charges, financial aid, housing eligibility, health insurance, and international student visas, among other concerns. Part-time Lang students are charged on a per-credit basis.

Course Levels

1000 level: Advising classes and other first-year seminars, first-year Writing classes, and first-year Reading NYC classes. These courses develop the skills necessary for academic success, and are offered exclusively within the first-year curriculum.

2000 level: Introductory courses with no prerequisites or with a minimal stated prerequisite (e.g., completion of one first-year Writing course). Courses may satisfy area of study requirements.

3000 level: Intermediate-level courses. These courses build on prior knowledge and skills developed in 1000- and 2000-level courses. They usually take a more specialized approach to the subject. Completion of at least one course at the 2000-level in the same area of study is presumed.

4000 level: Advanced-level courses. These courses take a sophisticated approach to the subject matter, assuming a masterful grasp of methods and approaches in the discipline. Students should have taken two courses in the discipline, including one at the 3000 level.

4400/4500 level: Graduate-level courses cross-listed with Lang subject codes. These courses are only open to juniors and seniors with previous relevant coursework.

Course Prerequisites

Before taking a course, students are expected to meet its prerequisites. Prerequisites indicate the specific knowledge or coursework that is necessary and/or the level of academic maturity that is required for a student to do well in the course. Students may be taking a course’s prerequisite at the time they advance register for the course. If the student has not taken the prerequisites, the instructor may ask the student to drop the course. If the student has not taken the prerequisites, but the instructor believes the student has sufficient academic preparation to succeed in the course, the instructor, in consultation with the chair, may give the student permission to take the course. Certain courses may be taken only with permission of the instructor. Prerequisites are noted in course descriptions.

Repeatable Courses

Certain courses note in their descriptions “may be repeated once” or “may be repeated as the topic changes.” Students may repeat such courses within the restriction and receive credit each time. All grades for repeatable courses are computed in the grade point average. Only courses designated in the description as repeatable can be taken more than once for credit.

Mutually Exclusive Courses

Occasionally, the content of two courses is so similar that students who have taken one would be repeating the material if they took the other. Such courses are identified in their descriptions with notations such as “students who have taken X course are not permitted to take this class.” Students risk losing both the credits and the grade if they take two courses designated as mutually exclusive.

Cross-Listed Courses

Cross-listed courses offered by graduate programs in the university are open to juniors and seniors at Lang and designated in this catalog and on the website as either LXXX 4400 or 4500 level. Enrollment is usually limited to five Lang students, and many courses require permission of the instructor. Lang students must register under the Lang number (unless enrolled in a combined bachelors/masters program; see below). The title, course description, prerequisite(s), meeting time and place, and credit hours are the same for Lang students and graduate students taking the course. Courses count toward the undergraduate degree, not toward a graduate degree.

Bachelors/Masters Program: If a student is enrolled in a dual degree program and a graduate course is going to count toward the master’s degree, the student must register for the graduate course number only. The undergraduate course number will not count as swing credit.

In any case, undergraduate academic policies apply, including time limits to complete an incomplete grade. Some but not all of these 4400- and 4500-level courses will satisfy major or minor requirements. The course description will provide this information.

Limits on Course Credits

There is a limit on the total number of credits from certain types of courses that can be applied toward the 120 required for a Lang bachelor’s degree:

- Graduate courses (with some exceptions)
- Retaken courses (other than “repeatable”)*
- Independent study
- Internships
- Activity-related courses

*See “Retaking a course” section for details and limitations.

Activity-related courses include New School Free Press (student newspaper), Academic Fellows, Release, experiential courses and other “out-and-about” fitness and outdoor courses, Teaching and Learning seminar, College Singers, New School Radio, etc. See the website for details.

Maximum Credits Earned in Non-Liberal Arts Courses

BA candidates may take a maximum of 30 credits in non-liberal arts courses. BS candidates may take a maximum of 60 credits in non-liberal arts courses.

The following are non-liberal arts courses:

- All dance and music performance courses
- Studio and music performance courses
- Theater productions each semester
- Film and digital production courses, including toolkits
- Internships
- Wellness courses
- Applied Arts, Vocational, and Business Administration Courses

Adding, Dropping, and Withdrawing from Courses

To add, drop, or withdraw from a course, students should contact their academic advisors for approval. All course changes must be submitted to the Office of the Registrar through MyNewSchool or in person. No course change is effective until this step is complete.

There is a financial penalty for dropping classes once the term has begun. However, if a student adds equivalent credits in the same day, the penalty is waived. See the University Refund Schedule for more information.

Deadlines for adding, dropping, and withdrawing from courses are as follows (see the Academic Calendar for exact dates for each semester):

- Adding a course: through second week of semester
- Dropping a course (deleted from student’s academic transcript): through third week of semester
- Withdrawal with a grade of W noted on academic transcript (no academic penalty): through seventh week of semester for undergraduate students
- Withdrawal with a grade of WF noted on academic transcript (equivalent to an F in GPA): after seventh week of semester for undergraduate students

Late-starting courses may be added after these deadlines with an advisor’s permission. Online courses may have different deadlines; refer to the registrar’s office website for details.

Attendance in class or completion of course requirements alone does not constitute formal registration and will not make a student eligible to receive credit for that course. Likewise, failure to attend classes, failure to complete coursework, failure to complete payment, or notification of the instructor, does not constitute official withdrawal and may result in a permanent grade of WF on the student’s record.
BILLING, PAYMENT, AND REFUND POLICIES

Lang tuition and financial aid packages make a college education affordable for qualified students. Tuition includes the mandatory Health Services Fee. It does not include room and board costs, which are available from the Housing Office and at www.newschool.edu/studentaffairs/housing. See also the chart on page earlier in this catalog.

Billing and Payment Information

For registered continuing students, invoices will be sent electronically. An email will be sent to the student’s New School email address (@newschool.edu) notifying him or her that the invoice is ready to view through MyNewSchool. The fall invoices are available for viewing in early July with a payment due date of August 10; invoices for the spring semester are available in December with a payment due date of January 10. The invoice contains all current financial aid as of the date of the invoice.

Students who register just prior to the start of classes must pay their tuition and fees (and housing if applicable) in full, less approved financial aid awards. Degree students may also make payment arrangements with the approval of Student Financial Services at the point of registration.

Accepted forms of payment: Payment may be made by Visa, MasterCard, Discover, American Express, check (US funds only), money order, travelers check, cash (in person only), and wire transfer (see instructions below). Students are encouraged to make payment online at MyNewSchool for timely, accurate, and secure posting. Online payment may be made using a U.S. checking or savings account, or Visa, MasterCard, Discover, or American Express.

Wire Transfer: For information on how to wire transfer funds to The New School, please sign on to MyNewSchool (click the “Student” tab, then in the “Student Financial Services” channel click “Wire transfer information.”).

Students, who do not have access to MyNewSchool, please email Student Financial Services for instructions. Only students who have been admitted and deposited can send funds by wire.

Monthly Payment Plan

The New School offers a monthly payment plan, which is accessible through MyNewSchool. It enables students or their families to pay interest-free monthly installments toward tuition, fees, and housing. The monthly payment plan allows you to maximize your savings and income by spreading your education expenses over four or five monthly payments each semester. Many students and families find monthly installments more manageable than one lump payment each semester.

The payment plan is not a loan so there are no credit checks. It is available for the fall and spring semesters. (This payment plan is not available for summer charges).

Matriculated students taking six or more credits per semester and New School for Social Research students maintaining status are eligible.

The plan is interest free and there is a $55.00 enrollment fee per semester. Payment for the fall five (5) month plan begins on August 1, and payment for the fall four (4) month plan begins on September 1. Payment for the spring five (5) month plan begins on January 1, and payment for the spring four (4) month plan begins on February 1. Enrollment is through MyNewSchool.

Important Note: All payment plans are based on per semester charges. Students will need to re-enroll each subsequent semester in order to continue using the payment plan as an option.

Deferral of Payment for Approved Financial Aid

Students expecting reimbursement from an employer or sponsor may defer payment of tuition and fees by submitting a signed authorization letter along with the appropriate deferral form(s). This may be done by mail or fax or in person, but not by email.

The authorization letter must be provided on official employer/sponsor letterhead. This letter should indicate the current date and include the following: student’s full name, New School ID number (if applicable), the amount to be reimbursed, the academic term for the covered charges, the signer’s address and telephone number, and the specific terms for reimbursement (either contingent on receipt of grades or else billable upon registration). Any portion of charges that the employer has not agreed to pay may not be deferred and must be paid upon registration.

Registered degree students must submit the authorization and the deferral form(s) to Student Financial Services by the appropriate payment due date in order to avoid the late payment fee. A non-matriculated (general credit, noncredit, or certificate) student must submit the authorization and deferral form(s) with his or her registration.

Students can mail authorization letters and forms to The New School, Attention: Third Party Billing, 79 Fifth Avenue, 5th floor, New York, NY 10003 or bring their documents in person to the cashiering office at 72 Fifth Avenue. Payments may be made online at my.newschool.edu via their checking account or credit card. Registered Students can fax a credit card authorization with their deferral form and authorizations letters to SFS at 212.229.8582.

Payment for all charges is the responsibility of the student. The student is liable for any and all deferred charges that are not paid by the employer/sponsor. Liability is not contingent on receiving passing grades or completing courses. For answers to questions regarding employer reimbursement, email sfs@newschool.edu or call 212.229.8930.

Terms of Reimbursement

If the reimbursement will be made upon receipt of grades: There is a participation fee of $150, and the student must complete both the Employer Reimbursement Deferment Form... and the Deferral Credit Card Payment Authorization. (These forms can be downloaded from the website; go to www.newschool.edu/studentservices and select Billing and Payment.) Payment of the $150 participation fee and any balance of tuition and university fees not covered by the authorization letter must be made prior to or submitted with the deferment forms. Deferred charges must be paid in full by February 1 for the fall semester, June 15 for the spring semester, and August 15 for summer term.

If payment is not contingent on receipt of grades and The New School can bill the employer directly, there is no participation fee. The student submits only the Employer Reimbursement Deferment Form (found on the website; see above) with the employer authorization letter. The New School will send an invoice for payment to the employer according to the authorization. Payment for any balance due not covered by the authorization letter must be made prior to or submitted with the deferment form.

Returned-Check Fee
If, for any reason, a check does not clear for payment a penalty of $30 is charged to the student's account. The university cannot presume that the student has withdrawn from classes because the check has not cleared or has been stopped; payment and penalty remain due. Payment for the amount of the returned check and the $30 returned check fee must be made with cash, certified bank check, or money order. Another personal check will not be accepted.

An additional 10 percent penalty is charged if payment for a returned check is not received within four weeks. After a second returned check, all future charges must be paid with cash, certified bank check, or money order. Personal checks will no longer be accepted from that student. If it becomes necessary to forward an account to a collection agency, an additional 10 percent penalty will be charged on the remaining account balance.

Refund Schedule and Policies
Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with university policies regarding adding or dropping courses and refund of tuition and fees.

In the event of early withdrawal, a percentage of tuition may be refunded. Refunds are granted only after the official withdrawal procedure has been completed or the university determines you are no longer enrolled.

In processing tuition refunds for degree students who drop or withdraw from fall or spring classes, the following schedule applies. (For the summer refund policy, see the registrar’s website.) Please note that fees, including tuition deposits for new students, are non-refundable. Housing fees are subject to the terms stated in the housing contract:

University Refund Schedule—Degree Students

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time Period</th>
<th>Percentage of Tuition Refunded</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Within third week of semester</td>
<td>70%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Within fourth week of semester</td>
<td>60%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>After fourth week of semester</td>
<td>No refund</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

The above percentages will be applied to the number of credits dropped or withdrawn, in order to determine a student’s remaining liability for those credits. The tuition will then be recalculated to include the new credit load and any liability for dropped/withdrawn credits. Refund amounts will be the difference between tuition already paid and the recalculated tuition. Refund processing takes approximately four weeks, though less time if a student has signed up for electronic refunds through MyNewSchool.

Student financial aid may be affected when a student withdraws or drops credits. Failure to complete payment prior to withdrawal does not relieve a student of financial liability. Students should contact Student Financial Services with questions regarding their account.

Students receiving federal financial aid who withdraw officially or unofficially from all classes are subject to a Title IV recalculation of aid. Federal aid eligibility is re-determined based on the student's last date of attendance in class, using a proportional calculation through 60 percent of the payment period (i.e., the ninth week for semester-length courses). Title IV recalcifications may result in the loss of all or some federal loans and federal grants. Students subject to recalculation will be sent a revised award letter indicating any change in federal aid. Such recalculations of aid eligibility have no bearing on a student’s institutional charges. The amount of tuition, fees, housing, and meal plan charges assessed will be based on the institutional refund policy as listed above.

Electronic Refunds Deposited in Your Bank Account
Student refunds can be deposited directly to a personal savings or checking account. Students can sign up for this service on MyNewSchool. Exception: For students who are using a Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students to finance their educational expenses, a paper refund check (if applicable) will be sent to the parent borrower. If using a credit card to pay your balance, refunds will be issued back to the card last used to complete this payment.

Late Registration and Late Payment Fees
The policy outlined below applies to all continuing degree students, except those returning from a leave of absence or mobility. (Students on “mobility” are those students studying abroad or students away from the college in an approved program such as the Lang/Sarah Lawrence College exchange program.) It does not apply to newly admitted students during their first semester. Please note that tuition and fee policies are subject to change.

Fall Semester. Students registered for the fall semester are required to make arrangements to pay by August 10. Failure to do so will result in a late payment fee of $150. Students who register after August 10 will be charged a late registration fee of $150.

Spring Semester. Students registered for the spring semester will be required to make arrangements to pay by January 10.
Numerical Values of Grades

- A = 4.0
- A- = 3.7
- B+ = 3.3
- B = 3.0
- C+ = 2.3
- C = 2.0
- B- = 2.7
- C- = 1.7
- WF = 0.0

The following grades are not figured into the grade-point average:

- W = Withdraw
- I = Temporary incomplete
- P = Pass (credits count toward degree)
- U = Unsatisfactory (credits do not count toward degree)
- GM = Grade not reported

Grade of W

The grade of W may be issued by the Office of the Registrar to a student who officially withdraws from a course within the applicable deadline. There is no academic penalty, but the grade will appear on the student transcript.

Grade of WF

The grade of WF is issued by an instructor to any undergraduate student who has not attended or not completed all required work in a course but did not officially withdraw before the withdrawal deadline. It differs from an “F,” which indicates that the student technically completed requirements but that the level of work did not qualify for a passing grade. The WF is equivalent to an F in calculating the grade-point average (zero grade points) and no credit is awarded.

Grades of Incomplete

The grade of “I,” or Temporary Incomplete, may be granted to a student under unusual and extenuating circumstances, such as when the student’s academic life is interrupted by a medical or personal emergency. This mark is not given automatically, but only upon the student’s request and at the discretion of the instructor. A Request for Incomplete form (available in the Lang Academic Advising Office) must be completed and signed by student and instructor, and then submitted to the advising office. The incomplete grade is not official until the form has been received. The Advising Office keeps track of the total number of Incompletes requested by the student. The deadline for students to submit contracts for final signature is the last day of classes in the semester requested.

The time allowed for completion of the work and removal of the “I” grade will be set by the instructor with the following limitations: Work must be completed no later than the seventh week of the following fall semester for spring or summer term incompletes, and no later than the seventh week of the following spring semester for fall term incompletes. This time limit also applies to graduate courses taken by Lang students. It is the student’s responsibility to make appropriate arrangements with the faculty member to complete the work during this period. For questions, contact the Academic Advising Office at 212.229.5100 x2264.

Grades of “I” not resolved in the prescribed time will be recorded as a final grade of “WF” by the Office of the Registrar.

Limitations to the Incomplete Policy: Lang students may take no more than two Incompletes in one semester.
Exceptions to the limitation of two Incompletes will be granted on a case-by-case basis and only in response to a serious, documented medical or personal emergency. In that situation, the student should contact the director of advising and the course instructor with a written explanation of the circumstances (or someone acting on behalf of the student, if medically disabled).

Grade-Point Averages

The semester grade-point average (GPA) is computed by multiplying the number of credits earned in each course by the numerical value associated with the grade received in that course. The grade points for all courses are totaled and then divided by the total number of graded credits attempted, including any failed courses.

The cumulative grade-point average is computed by dividing the total number of grade points earned (quality points) by the total number of graded credits attempted. Credits transferred from another institution are not included in the cumulative GPA.

Grade Changes

Final grades are subject to revision by the instructor with the approval of the dean’s office for one semester following the term in which the course was offered. After that time has elapsed, all grades recorded in the registrar’s office become a permanent part of the academic record, and no changes are permitted.

In the interest of fairness to all students registered in a course, grade changes should be submitted only for the following reasons: 1) a recording or calculation error was made by the instructor, or 2) an agreement is made between the student and the instructor to reevaluate all work submitted during the semester in which the course was taught. Please note that an agreement by the instructor to reevaluate work does not guarantee a higher grade. No work should be accepted after the semester has ended unless an Incomplete grade was approved by the instructor before the last class session.

Grade Appeal Policy

Students may petition for review of any grade up to 60 days after the grade was issued. Before deciding to appeal, the student must request a verbal explanation of the basis of the grade from the instructor. If the student is not satisfied with the explanation, the student may appeal the grade as follows:

The student submits a letter outlining any questions or objections directly to the faculty member, with a copy to the department chair. (If the faculty member is also the chair, the copy will be sent to the dean’s office.)

The instructor submits a written response to the student’s letter within one month of receipt, with a copy to the department chair (or, if the faculty member is also the chair, to the dean’s office).

If the student is not satisfied by the faculty member’s written response, the student may appeal further by sending copies of previous communication to the dean’s office. The associate dean will convene an appeals committee to review all correspondence and documentation, clarify any outstanding questions or issues, and make a recommendation to the dean of the college. The dean’s decision is final.

ACADEMIC TRANSCRIPTS

An official transcript carries the registrar’s signature and The New School seal, and documents a student’s permanent academic record at the university. Students may have a transcript mailed to the address of their choosing (including other colleges and institutions) by submitting an official request to the Office of the Registrar through MyNewSchool. Transcripts are not issued for students with outstanding debts to the university. For additional information visit: www.newschool.edu/studentservices/registrar/transcripts/.

ACADEMIC STANDING AND PROGRESS

Dean’s List

Undergraduates who are full-time students and have a term grade point average of 3.7 or higher are placed on the Dean’s List, which is noted on the academic transcript. Students who receive grades of incomplete will be eligible for the Dean’s List if they complete all course requirements within the time allocated by the instructor. Dean’s List is not awarded for the summer term.

Class Standing

Class standing for Lang students is determined as follows:

- First-year students: 0 to 29 credits
- Sophomores: 30 to 59 credits
- Juniors: 60 to 89 credits
- Seniors: 90 credits and above

Academic Standing Requirements

All matriculated undergraduate students must earn a 2.0 term and cumulative GPA to remain in good academic standing. Students with a term or cumulative GPA of less than 2.0 will be placed on academic probation. Students who earn a term or cumulative GPA of less than 2.0 for two consecutive semesters are eligible for academic dismissal. Any undergraduate earning a term GPA of less than 1.0 will be dismissed. While on academic probation, students are restricted to registration in 12 credits, and expected to meet biweekly with an advisor for academic progress appointments. Please note academic probation is related to, but nonetheless distinct from, satisfactory progress reviews for financial aid eligibility; probationary students reliant on federal and institutional aid should consult with a counselor in Student Financial Services.

Incomplete grades not resolved in the time allocated by the instructor are automatically converted to grades of “WF” and will be considered in determining a student’s academic standing. The “WF” is equivalent to an F in calculating the grade point average (zero grade points).
Dismissal Notification

Students dismissed based on fall semester grades must be notified before spring semester classes begin. Otherwise, the student will be placed on probation and allowed to attend spring term classes. Students dismissed on the basis of spring semester grades will be notified during the summer. All dismissal notifications are delivered to Lang students through university email and certified postal mail.

Academic Dismissal Appeals

Students who are dismissed from their degree programs may petition to their dean’s office to reverse the decision by filing a formal appeal. All appeals must be presented in writing, with supporting documentation, within two weeks of receipt of notice of academic dismissal. Students may expect to hear the results of an appeal within two to four weeks of its submission. Otherwise, the student must wait one year before applying for readmission.

In addition to any supporting documentation provided, appeals must contain the following information:

- An explanation of poor performance and/or failure to complete required coursework
- A description of plans to improve academic performance and/or to complete outstanding work
- Any other relevant information pertaining to academic history or potential

Readmission of Former Students

Any student who has been out of attendance for one academic year or less (one or two semesters) should contact the Lang Academic Advising Office directly.

Any former student who has been out of attendance for more than one full academic year and who wishes to return to Lang must apply for readmission. Students who have attended another institution since their last attendance at Lang must submit official transcripts from those institutions. Students may also be asked to have a personal interview and submit additional materials.

A student seeking to return to the university may be required to apply for readmission if he or she

- was dismissed
- did not complete the official Exit Form before taking a leave or withdrawing
- was not approved for a leave of absence
- was approved for a leave of absence but did not return to the university within the approved time frame
- withdrew from his or her program

Minimum Grades for Major and Minor Requirements

Students must receive a grade of C or higher in a course in order for that course to be counted as meeting the requirements for a major or minor, including the senior capstone and electives. If a student receives a passing grade less than a C for a course, credit will be given and the grade will be included in the GPA and listed on the transcript, but the course will not satisfy a major or minor course requirement.

Note: Students must receive grades of B or better for certain major/minor requirements in Culture and Media, Gender Studies, Global Studies, and Literary Studies.

Changes in Requirements

As Eugene Lang College evolves, the curriculum requirements for some areas of study may change. If the requirements change, students who have earned fewer than 45 credits at the time of declaration must fulfill the new requirements of the area of study unless the program director or chair agrees otherwise. Students who have earned more than 45 credits have the option of completing the previous curriculum or the revised curriculum.

Retaking a Course

With approval, undergraduate students with a grade of F or WF in a course are eligible to retake the course and have the original grade removed from the cumulative GPA calculation. Approval will be granted for this up to three times during a single degree program. The initial grade will continue to appear on the transcript but will drop out of the cumulative GPA; the grade earned the second time will be used to compute the GPA. Retaken courses will not count twice toward fulfillment of graduation requirements nor for student loan or New York Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) certification. Students who wish to retake a course should contact their advisor to learn the proper procedure prior to registration.

Attendance and Lateness

Absences justify some grade reduction, and a total of four absences mandate a reduction of one letter grade for the course. More than four absences mandate a failing grade for the course, unless there are extenuating circumstances, such as the following:

- An extended illness requiring hospitalization or visit to a physician (with documentation)
- A family emergency, e.g. serious illness (with written explanation)
- Observance of a religious holiday

The attendance and lateness policies are enforced as of the first day of classes for all registered students. If registered during the first week of the add/drop period, the student is responsible for any missed assignments and coursework. For significant lateness, the instructor may consider the tardiness as an absence for the day. Students failing a course due to attendance should consult with an academic advisor to discuss options.

Some instructors might stipulate different guidelines for attendance based on the nature of the course assignments (such as studios, laboratories, workshops) or the course schedule (half-semester classes, classes meeting once a week). Refer to the instructor’s course syllabus.

Religious Absences/Equivalent Opportunity

Pursuant to Section 224-a of the New York State Education Laws, any student who is absent from school because of his or her religious beliefs will be given an equivalent opportunity to register for classes or make up any examination, study, or work requirements which he or she may have missed because of such absence on any particular day or days.

Academic Standing and Financial Aid

Satisfactory academic progress is a crucial factor in maintaining eligibility for state, federal, and institutional financial aid. In addition to the standards described above, certain aid programs (such as New York State’s Tuition Assistance Program) may have additional or different academic progress requirements. Failure to meet these requirements may jeopardize a student’s continued financial assistance. Students should contact Student Financial Services with questions about general requirements or personal status.

A student who loses financial aid eligibility because of failure to satisfy academic progress requirements may have his or her financial aid reinstated if satisfactory academic standing is regained or if he or she is readmitted to the academic program.

ACADEMIC STATUS

Change of Major or Program

Lang students generally declare a major at the end of their second year of study. After this major is declared, students who wish to change their major should work with their advisor to declare the new major. If a student seeks entrance to a different degree program within their division (e.g. from a BA to a BS) or to another division of the university, he or she should apply directly through the proper admission office.

Leave of Absence

Students in good academic standing may petition for a leave of absence. Students taking a leave of absence should meet with an academic advisor and complete the official Exit Form. Leaves of absence are typically approved for one or two semesters, depending on the curriculum and academic requirements of the program. Recipients of student loans should note that a leave of absence constitutes a break in their program of study, resulting in loss of their loan repayment grace period and/or eligibility for student deferment. They should consult Student Financial Services when contemplating taking a leave of absence. International students on F1 and J1 visas normally fall out of status during the period of a leave and must return to their home countries during the leave; international students should consult International Student Services when contemplating a leave of absence.

Academic records for students on leave are maintained in accordance with the relevant drop and withdrawal deadlines, and refunds are calculated in accordance with the University Refund Schedule.

Leaves of absence for medical reasons require appropriate documentation. To return from a leave taken for medical reasons, a student must submit follow-up documentation indicating that the student is able to resume study. Upon receipt of this documentation, the Office of Student Support will make a decision as to the student’s eligibility to return. Until the student receives clearance to return, a hold will be placed on registration. If unable to return to study as planned, students must contact their academic advisor immediately to request an extension of their leave.

Withdrawal from the University

Students who wish to withdraw completely from the university must meet with their academic advisor and complete the official Exit Form. Their academic records will be maintained in accordance with the relevant drop and withdrawal deadlines, and refunds will be calculated in accordance with the University Refund Schedule.

Students who withdraw and later wish to return to the university must reapply through the Office of Admission.

GRADUATION

Requirements for Graduation

To earn an undergraduate degree, students must have a minimum 2.0 cumulative grade-point average and must complete all degree requirements (as specified in school catalogs) prior to the graduation date.

Graduating students should not receive incomplete grades in any course taken in the final semester of study.

Petitioning to Graduate

Students who intend to graduate must submit a Graduation Petition to the Office of the Registrar through MyNewSchool. The petition must be filed regardless of intent to attend the commencement ceremony. Students graduating in January should petition prior to October 1. Students graduating in May should petition prior to February 15. Late fees may apply after these deadlines. See the registrar’s website for details.

The Commencement Ceremony

The graduation ceremony for both May and January graduates is held in May. Undergraduate students who are within nine credits of completing their degree requirements and who will complete all outstanding credits in the summer term following commencement may participate in the ceremony. Participation in commencement exercises does not ensure that degree requirements have been met.

Students attending the May ceremony must purchase graduation attire from the university supplier.
Graduation with Honors
Undergraduates who have completed at least 60 credits in residence for a bachelor’s degree and who have a cumulative grade point average of 3.7 or higher may graduate “with honors” noted on their diplomas and transcripts. Departmental graduation honors are internally awarded, and will be noted on transcripts but not on the diploma.

Degree Conferral and Issuing of Diplomas
The New School confers degrees in January and May. After all semester grades are received and posted, the student’s academic record is evaluated to determine eligibility to graduate. This process will take several weeks. If the student is eligible to graduate, the degree will be conferred and a diploma will be mailed to the student’s specified “diploma address” approximately 12 weeks later. Diplomas are not issued to students with outstanding debts to the university.

ACADEMIC ADVISING
Advisement is a valued and integral component of the educational experience at Lang. Academic advisors provide academic guidance and administrative support to help students take advantage of the academic programs and resources of The New School. Advisors assist students in decisions about curricular choices and overall academic plans, with an emphasis on challenging students to think broadly about their education. In addition, advisors help students consider plans after graduation, which might include a master’s degree, a professional career, or community service. Advisors establish a comfortable, supportive relationship with students.

The Importance of Class Advisors
Lang has an academic advisor designated for each undergraduate class (including transfer students). In addition to monitoring academic progress and registration each semester, they advise students about academic resources and extracurricular programs, with particular emphasis on the integration of academic and experiential opportunities (such as study abroad, professional internships, and volunteer service). Advisors also help students access valuable services throughout the university, including the Writing Center and Office of Career Development. Class advisors are available to respond to the concerns students have about undergraduate life and provide support for academic or personal issues. Students should schedule an appointment with their advisor and visit www.newschool.edu/lang/advising.

The Mentorship of Faculty Advisors
At Lang, students often have more academic freedom in their intellectual pursuits than at other institutions. This freedom reinforces the importance of advising. Students are assigned a faculty advisor throughout their time at Eugene Lang College. In the first year, students choose an advising seminar based on their academic interests. The instructor for that course becomes their assigned faculty advisor. In most cases, that advisor remains assigned to the student until a major or interdisciplinary program is declared at the end of sophomore year. At that time, students may request reassignment to an advisor in their new area of study. The faculty advisor provides academic guidance and mentorship as students make important educational decisions, including how to create breadth and balance in course selections and class schedules. The advisor and student work together, drawing on the curriculum to realize academic goals. Students are encouraged to develop a relationship with their faculty advisor by discussing more than just prospective classes and registration. Faculty advisors are available to discuss relevant career fields and advanced degree programs after graduation.

The Perspective of a Peer
Freshmen benefit from a peer advisor, called a seminar fellow. Seminar fellows are upper-level students who demonstrate leadership and are trained to teach a workshop for first-year students. All freshmen register for this two-credit workshop, which is designed to furnish new students with important skills and resource information.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY AND HONESTY

Statement of Purpose: Academic Honesty and Integrity
The New School views “academic honesty and integrity” as the duty of every member of an academic community to claim authorship for his or her own work and only for that work, and to recognize the contributions of others accurately and completely. This obligation is fundamental to the integrity of intellectual debate, and creative and academic pursuits. Academic honesty and integrity includes accurate use of quotations, as well as appropriate and explicit citation of sources in instances of paraphrasing and describing ideas, or reporting on research findings or any aspect of the work of others (including that of faculty members and other students). Academic dishonesty results from infractions of this “accurate use”. The standards of academic honesty and integrity, and citation of sources, apply to all forms of academic work, including submissions of drafts of final papers or projects. All members of the University community are expected to conduct themselves in accord with the standards of academic honesty and integrity.

Students are responsible for understanding the University’s policy on academic honesty and integrity and must make use of proper citations of sources for writing papers, creating, presenting, and performing their work, taking examinations, and doing research. Through syllabi, or in assignments, faculty members are responsible for informing students of policies with respect to the limits within which they may collaborate with, or seek help from, others. Individual divisions/programs may require their students to sign an Academic Integrity Statement declaring that they understand and agree to comply with this policy.

The New School recognizes that the different nature of work across the schools of the University may require different procedures for citing sources and referring to the work of others. Particular academic procedures, however, are based in universal principles valid in all schools of The New School.
and institutions of higher education in general. This policy is not intended to interfere with the exercise of academic freedom and artistic expression.

Definitions and Examples of Academic Dishonesty

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to:

- cheating on examinations, either by copying another student’s work or by utilizing unauthorized materials
- using work of others as one’s own original work and submitting such work to the university or to scholarly journals, magazines, or similar publications
- submission of another students’ work obtained by theft or purchase as one’s own original work
- submission of work downloaded from paid or unpaid sources on the internet as one’s own original work, or including the information in a submitted work without proper citation
- submitting the same work for more than one course without the knowledge and explicit approval of all of the faculty members involved
- destruction or defacement of the work of others
- aiding or abetting any act of academic dishonesty
- any attempt to gain academic advantage by presenting misleading information, making deceptive statements or falsifying documents, including documents related to internships
- engaging in other forms of academic misconduct that violate principles of integrity.

Adjudication Procedures

An administrator or faculty member at each of the divisions/programs of the University is the Dean’s designee with responsibility for administering the University’s Academic Honesty and Integrity Policy (hereinafter “school designee”). The name of each School Designee is listed on the Provost’s Office website.

The steps below are to be followed in order. If the two parties come to agreement at any of the steps, they do not need to proceed further.

Throughout this policy where correspondence is indicated, but the method is not specified, New School e-mail accounts and/or hard copy, sent through regular mail or hand delivery, may be used and is considered a good faith effort of notification on the part of the University. Each school will follow internal procedures for tracking correspondences with students related to this policy.

All time frames indicated by days refer to business days that do not include when the University’s administrative offices are closed, including weekends and holidays.

Grades awarded under the university’s Academic Integrity and Honesty Policy are not subject to review under this Grade Appeal Policy.

Step 1: Notification to Student

A faculty member who suspects that a student has engaged in academic dishonesty will meet with the student. It is expected that the faculty member will contact the student within ten (10) days after the last day of classes for that semester in which the alleged incident occurs. If academic dishonesty is alleged on an examination, paper, or creative work due within the last two weeks of classes, the faculty member should submit an incomplete grade until the student can be properly notified and the matter resolved. If grading a major culminating work (for example, a Senior Exhibit, final course paper, Masters Thesis, or Doctoral Dissertation) which may take longer to evaluate, faculty may request an exception to this deadline through the Dean’s office.

The student must contact the faculty member within ten (10) days of the notification to schedule a meeting with the faculty member. The faculty member is responsible for setting the meeting. This meeting can be in person or via telephone. A student who fails to respond in the time required will be deemed to have waived his/her rights under this policy. If the student does not respond, and the faculty member determines that the infraction is an actionable offense, s/he will inform in writing the School’s Designee of his/her determination and include copies of the following: correspondence with the student, syllabi, and course assignments.

In cases where the student is taking a course with a faculty member of a different school, the faculty member’s school designee will inform the student’s School Designee who will then oversee the adjudication process.

Step 2: Faculty Meeting with Student

During the meeting with the student, the faculty member will review the allegations with the student and allow the student the opportunity to respond. The student and/or the faculty member may, on a voluntary basis, request the presence of a designated third party from the student’s school or the University’s ombudsman. A Third Party is appointed within each school for this purpose and can assist in clarifying questions about this policy and its processes, and facilitate communication between the faculty member and the student. The name of each Third Party is listed on the Provost’s Office website and the School Designee can never also serve as a Third Party. If the faculty member and/or the student elect to have a third party present, the requestor is responsible for notifying the other of his/her decision in advance of the meeting.

During this meeting, the student may either accept responsibility for the allegations or dispute them. Regardless, the faculty member will consult with the School Designee and then make one or more of the following determinations:

1. Indicate that the student has not committed an infraction of this policy.

2. Indicate that the student has committed an infraction and impose one of the following sanctions:
a. require the student to resubmit the assignment; or
b. give the student a failing grade for that particular assignment; or
c. give the student a failing grade for the course.

3. Indicate that the student has committed an egregious infraction supporting the recommendation to the Dean that the student be suspended or expelled. Examples of egregious infractions include, but are not limited to: (1) multiple instances of academic dishonesty in a single course, (2) repeated instances of academic dishonesty by a student in different courses, and (3) academic dishonesty related to a major culminating work such as a Senior Exhibit, Masters Thesis or Doctoral Dissertation.

The faculty member will send correspondence as well as syllabi and course assignments to the School Designee with his/her determination.

In the rare and exceptional circumstance where the Step 2 process cannot occur, the instructor or the School’s Designee shall notify the student of the instructor’s concern that the student has engaged in academic dishonesty and that the matter has been referred to the Dean for resolution. In such cases, the student may proceed as set forth in the Appeals Procedures.

Step 3: Review of Faculty Determination and Possible Imposition of Sanctions by School Designee

The school designee will review the faculty member’s determination and consult, as needed, with appropriate academic personnel. Based on the faculty member’s determination, the nature of the most recent violation as it relates to past violations, consistency within the division and across the University, and on any other relevant information pertaining to the student’s record at the University, the School Designee may determine that modified sanctions should be imposed on the student that can include, but are not limited to, suspension or expulsion.

Recognizing the importance of the decision for the student, the faculty member and the School Designee will notify the student in writing of the sanction(s) as soon as possible, but not more than twenty (20) days after receipt of the faculty member’s written recommendation. In addition, the School Designee will notify the appropriate offices in the school, the faculty member, the faculty member’s School Designee (if the course at issue is offered through another school), as well as the Office of the Assistant Vice President for Student and Campus Life.

Student's Right to Appeal

The student may appeal the school designee’s decision to the Dean/Director of the School or his/her designee (hereinafter “Dean”). The appeal must be in writing and sent within ten (10) days of the decision letter received by the student. The student may request that the Dean convene a meeting of the existing committee that is responsible for academic standards and standing, or convene such a committee should one not already exist, to review the appeal. No member of this committee will have been part of the appeals process to date. The committee’s recommendation will be made to the Dean, whose decision is final except in cases where the student has been suspended or expelled. Alternately, the student may waive review by a committee and request that the appeal be reviewed exclusively by the Dean or his/her designee, who will not be the School’s Designee.

The student’s appeal must be reviewed within fifteen (15) days of receipt. Note that an appeal to the Dean may result in a stricter penalty than that applied by the School Designee. The student must be notified in writing of the appeal decision within five (5) days of the decision. A copy of the decision must be sent to the faculty member who brought the initial allegations, the Office of the Assistant Vice President for Student and Campus Life, and other offices as appropriate.

The Dean’s decision is final, and not subject to further appeal, except in cases where the decision is either to suspend or expel.

Appeal to the Provost

A student who has been ordered suspended or expelled from the University because of a violation of this policy may appeal to the Provost or his/her designee (hereinafter “Provost”). The appeal must be made in writing within five (5) days of receipt of the Dean’s decision.

If the Provost decides to consider the appeal, such a review will be limited to: (a) whether the adjudication procedures outlined in this policy were properly followed; and (b) whether the sanction imposed is appropriate given the nature of the violation, and is consistent with sanctions imposed across the University in the past for similar violations. Note that an appeal to the Provost may result in a stricter penalty than that applied by the Dean; i.e. an appeal of a Dean’s decision of suspension could result in the Provost’s decision of expulsion. The Provost will, within ten (10) days of receipt of the request, make a determination. The Provost’s decision is final.

OTHER POLICIES

The Student Right to Know Act

The New School discloses information about the persistence of undergraduate students pursuing degrees at this institution. This data is made available to all students and prospective students as required by the Student Right to Know Act. During the 2012–2013 academic year, the university reports the “persistence rate” for the year 2011 (i.e., the percentage of all freshmen studying full time in fall 2011 who were still studying full time in the same degree programs in fall 2012).
This information can be found under the common data set information. Visit the Office of Institutional Research at www.news school.edu/leadership/subpage.aspx?id=57939 for more information.

Intellectual Property Policy

Under The New School’s Intellectual Property Policy, the university shall have a nonexclusive, royalty-free, worldwide license to use works created by its students and faculty for archival, reference, research, classroom, and other educational purposes. With regard to tangible works of fine art or applied art, this license will attach only to stored images of such work (e.g., slides, videos, digitized images) and does not give the university a right to the tangible works themselves. With regard to literary, artistic, and musical works, this license will attach only to brief excerpts of such works for purposes of education. When using works pursuant to this license, the university will make reasonable efforts to display indicia of the authorship of a work. This license shall be presumed to arise automatically, and no additional formality shall be required. If the university wishes to acquire rights to use the work or a reproduction or image of the work for advertising, promotional, or fund-raising purposes, the university will negotiate directly with the creator in order to obtain permission.

Use of Photographs

The New School reserves the right to take or cause to be taken, without remuneration, photographs, film or videos, and other graphic depictions of students, faculty, staff, and visitors for promotional, educational, and/or noncommercial purposes, as well as approve such use by third parties with whom the university may engage in joint marketing. Such purposes may include print and electronic publications. This paragraph serves as public notice of the intent of the university to do so and as a release to the university giving permission to use those images for such purposes.

Statement of Ethical Responsibility for Research Involving Human Subjects

New School faculty and staff engaged in research or supervising student research projects must be aware of their responsibilities for ethical conduct in any project involving the use of human subjects. Faculty and staff are responsible for research done by students under their supervision with respect to these matters. Each research design must be examined for possible risk to subjects. If even minor risk of physical, psychological, sociological, or other harm may be involved, the faculty or staff member must consult with the university Institutional Review Board. The full policy with guidelines and consent forms can be found at www.news school.edu/leadership/subpage.aspx?id=38314.

Campus Crime Reporting and Statistics

The Security and Advisory Committee on Campus Safety will provide upon request all campus crime statistics as reported to the United States Department of Education. Anyone wishing to review the university’s current crime statistics may access them through the web site for the Department of Education: ope.ed.gov/security. A copy of the statistics may also be obtained by contacting the director of security for The New School at (212) 229-5101.

Academic Freedom: Free Exchange of Ideas

An abiding commitment to preserving and enhancing freedom of speech, thought, inquiry, and artistic expression is deeply rooted in the history of The New School. The New School was founded in 1919 by scholars responding to a threat to academic freedom in this country. The University in Exile, progenitor of The New School for Social Research, was established in 1933 in response to threats to academic freedom abroad. The University in Exile, since its beginnings, has endeavored to be an educational community in which public as well as scholarly issues are openly discussed and debated, regardless of how controversial or unpopular the views expressed are. Providing such a forum was seen, from the first, as an integral part of a university’s responsibility in a democratic society.

The New School is committed to academic freedom in all forms and for all members of its community. It is equally committed to protecting the right of free speech of all outside individuals authorized to use its facilities or invited to participate in the educational activities of any of the university’s schools. A university in any meaningful sense of the term is compromised without unhindered exchanges of ideas, however unpopular, and without the assurance that both the presentation and confrontation of ideas takes place freely and without coercion. In this context and because of its educational role as a forum for public debate, the university has deep concern for preserving and securing the conditions that permit the free exchange of ideas to flourish. Faculty members, administrators, staff members, students, and guests are obligated to reflect in their actions a respect for the right of all individuals to speak their views freely and be heard. They must refrain from any action that would cause that right to be abridged. At the same time, the university recognizes that the right of speakers to speak and be heard does not preclude the right of others to express differing points of view. However, this latter right must be exercised in ways that allow speakers to state their position and must not involve any form of intimidation or physical violence.

Beyond the responsibility of individuals for their own actions, members of the New School community share in a collective responsibility for preserving freedom of speech. This collective responsibility entails mutual cooperation in minimizing the possibility that speech will be curtailed, especially when contentious issues are being discussed, and in assuring that due process is accorded to any individual alleged to have interfered with the free exchange of ideas.

Consistent with these principles, the university is prepared to take necessary steps to secure the conditions for free speech.
Individuals whose acts abridge that freedom will be referred to the appropriate academic school for disciplinary review.

Equal Employment and Educational Opportunity

The New School does not discriminate on the basis of age, race, color, creed, gender (including gender identity and expression), pregnancy, sexual orientation, religion, religious practices, mental or physical disability, national or ethnic origin, citizenship status, veteran status, marital or partnership status, or any other legally protected status.

Inquiries concerning the application of the laws and regulations concerning equal employment and educational opportunity at The New School (including Title VI-equal opportunity regardless of race, color or national origin; Section 504-equal opportunity for the disabled; and Title IX-equal opportunity without regard to gender) may be referred to: The Office of the General Counsel, The New School, 80 Fifth Avenue, Suite 800, New York, New York 10011. Inquiries may also be referred to: the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs, U.S. Department of Labor, 23 Federal Plaza, New York, NY 10278, U.S. Department of Education, (Office of Civil Rights, 32 Old Slip, 26th Floor, New York, NY 10005 or the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), New York District Office, 201 Varick Street, Suite 1009, New York, NY 10014. For individuals with hearing impairments, EEOC's TDD number is 212.741.3080.

Students or Employees who believe they have been discriminated against on the basis of a disability may contact their Division’s Dean Office, their Department Director, or the Office of the Senior Vice-President for Human Resources & Labor Relations, who is the University Disability Official.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, with which The New School complies, was enacted to protect the privacy of education records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their education records, and to provide guidelines for correction of inaccurate or misleading statements.

The New School has established the following student information as public or directory information, which may be disclosed by the institution at its discretion: student name; major field of study; dates of attendance; full- or part-time enrollment status; year level; degrees and awards received, including dean’s list; the most recent previous educational institution attended, addresses, phone numbers, photographs, email addresses; and date and place of birth.

Students may request that The New School withhold release of their directory information by notifying the Registrar’s Office in writing. This notification must be renewed annually at the start of each fall term.

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include:

The right to inspect and review the student’s education records within 45 days of the day the university receives a request for access.

A student should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department, or other appropriate official, a written request that identifies the record(s) the student wishes to inspect. The university official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the university official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

The right to request the amendment of the student’s education records that the student believes are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student’s privacy rights under FERPA.

A student who wishes to ask the university to amend a record should write to the university official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record the student wants changed, and specify why, in the student’s opinion, it should be changed.

If the university decides not to amend the record as requested, the university will notify the student in writing of the decision and the student’s right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

The right to provide written consent before the university discloses personally identifiable information from the student’s education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

The university discloses education records without a student’s prior written consent under the FERPA exception for disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the university in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health services staff); a person or company with whom the university has contracted as its agent to provide a service instead of university employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the New School Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.

A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for the university.

The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the university to comply with the requirements of FERPA.

The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Addendum to FERPA Regulations

As of January 3, 2012, U.S. Department of Education FERPA regulations expand the circumstances under which education records and personally identifiable information (PII) contained in such records—including Social Security Number, grades, and other private information—may be shared without a student’s consent.

First, the U.S. Comptroller General, the U.S. Attorney General, the U.S. Secretary of Education, or state or local education authorities (“Federal and State Authorities”) may allow access to a student’s records and PII without the student’s consent to any third party designated by a Federal or State Authority to evaluate a federal- or state-supported education program. The evaluation may relate to any program that is “principally engaged in the provision of education,” such as early childhood education and job training as well as any program that is administered by an education agency or institution.

Second, Federal and State Authorities may allow access to education records and PII without the student’s consent to researchers performing certain types of studies, in certain cases even when the educational institution did not request or objects to such research. Federal and State Authorities must obtain certain use-restriction and data security promises from the entities that they authorize to receive a student’s PII, but the Authorities need not maintain direct control over such entities.

In addition, in connection with Statewide Longitudinal Data Systems, State Authorities may collect, compile, permanently retain, and share without a student’s consent PII from the student’s education records and may track a student’s participation in education and other programs by linking such PII to other personal information about the student that they obtain from other federal or state data sources, including workforce development, unemployment insurance, child welfare, juvenile justice, military service, and migrant student records systems.

THE NEW SCHOOL IN BRIEF

The New School was established in 1919 as a center of lifelong education, founded on the principle of intellectual and artistic freedom. Its founders were a group of prominent progressive scholars including Charles Beard, John Dewey, and James Harvey Robinson. True to its name, The New School has evolved continuously since its inception in response to the changing universe of ideas, career opportunities, and human curiosity. What began as a non-degree-granting school for working adults has become an innovative urban university offering some of the nation’s most respected programs in the liberal arts, the social sciences, art and design, the performing arts, and public administration. Students from across the country and around the world enroll in The New School’s diverse degree, certificate, and continuing education programs. They are taught by a renowned faculty of artists, scholars, and professionals and enjoy access to the rich resources of one of the world’s great cities. As The New School approaches its 100th anniversary, the ideals of its founders continue to be reflected in the achievements of its students, faculty, and alumni.

THE DIVISIONS OF THE NEW SCHOOL

Eugene Lang College The New School for Liberal Arts

www.newschool.edu/lang
65 West 11th Street, New York NY 10011 | 212.229.5665

Eugene Lang College is The New School’s four-year liberal arts college for traditional-age undergraduates. The college began in 1972 as the Freshman Year Program, an experimental program for high school seniors. It became the Seminar College, a full-time bachelor’s program, in 1975 and a separate division of the university in 1985. This bold experiment in undergraduate education is named in honor of New School trustee Eugene M. Lang, a generous supporter of the college. Students at Eugene Lang College enjoy small seminar-style classes taught by a faculty of prominent scholars, many of whom are also affiliated with the graduate departments of The New School for Social Research. The college’s location in the center of a major metropolitan area offers its students opportunities for civic engagement and internships available to students of few other small liberal arts schools.

Mannes College The New School for Music

www.newschool.edu/mannes
150 West 85th Street, New York, NY 10024 | 212.580.0210

Founded in 1916 by David Mannes and Clara Damrosch, Mannes College became part of The New School in 1989. Mannes is one of the leading classical music conservatories in the world, providing professional training for a select group of talented student musicians. A comprehensive curriculum and a faculty of world-class artists enable students to attain virtuosity in vocal and instrumental music, conducting, composition, and theory. Students also enjoy access to the resources of the university as a whole and opportunities for civic engagement in New York City. Mannes offers undergraduate and graduate music degrees and professional diplomas. Mannes also has a community extension program for adult learners and a preparatory program for children.

The New School for Drama

www.newschool.edu/drama

151 Bank Street, New York, NY 10014 | 212.229.5150

The New School has been a center of innovation in theater since Erwin Piscator brought his Dramatic Workshop here from Europe in the 1940s. His students included Marlon Brando, Walter Matthau, Harry Belafonte, Elaine Stritch, and Tennessee Williams. Piscator established a tradition of excellence in theater education that continues at The New School today. The New School for Drama began in 1994 as a program to train talented individuals for careers in the theater as actors, directors, and playwrights. The New School’s New York City setting offers students abundant opportunities to learn through observation and make professional connections through the broadest theater career network in the United States.

The New School for Jazz and Contemporary Music

55 West 13th Street, New York, NY 10011 | 212.229.5896

In 1986, The New School established an undergraduate program offering talented young musicians the opportunity to study with professional artists from New York City’s peerless jazz community. The teaching model is based on the tradition of the artist as mentor: Our students study and perform with some of the world’s most accomplished musicians. They are immersed in the history and theory of and latest developments in jazz, blues, pop, and the ever-evolving genres of contemporary music. Learning takes place in classrooms, student ensembles, one-on-one tutorials, public performances, and master classes. Students develop their creative talents to meet the high standards of professional musicianship exemplified by the legendary faculty.

The New School for Public Engagement

The New School for Public Engagement embodies the values that motivated the university’s founders in 1919. The division was renamed in 2011 to reflect its position as an enterprise designed to connect theory to practice, foster innovation in culture and communication, and promote democratic citizenship through lifelong education. The division offers undergraduate degree programs for adult and transfer students and graduate degrees and certificates in its schools of languages, media studies, and writing and in the Milano School of International Affairs, Management, and Urban Policy. The division also offers hundreds of open-enrollment continuing education courses on campus in Greenwich Village and online.

The New School for Social Research

16 East 16th Street, New York, NY 10003 | 212.229.5700

In 1933, The New School gave a home to the University in Exile, a refuge for scholars fleeing persecution by the Nazis. In 1934, The New School incorporated this community as a graduate school of political and social science. Today’s graduate students enjoy opportunities to cross disciplinary boundaries and collaborate with scholars, designers, and artists in other divisions of the university. The New School for Social Research addresses the most urgent political, cultural, and economic concerns of the day and uphold the highest standards of critical inquiry.

Parsons The New School for Design

2 West 13th Street, New York, NY 10011 | 212.229.8950

Parsons is one of the world’s preeminent colleges of art and design. Founded in 1896 by artist William Merritt Chase and his circle, Parsons was renamed in 1936 for its longtime president, Frank Alvah Parsons, who dedicated his career to integrating visual art and industrial design. Parsons became part of The New School in 1970. It was the first institution in the United States to award university degrees in fashion design, interior design, advertising and graphic design (originally commercial illustration), and lighting design. Parsons has earned and maintained an international reputation as a school at the vanguard of design education. Students in its undergraduate and graduate degree programs hold themselves to exceptional standards of creativity and scholarship, developing their skills and building knowledge in laboratories, workshops, and seminars. Parsons offers general art and design courses and certificate programs for students of all ages.

Visit the home page of each division for information about degrees offered and areas of study.
