Study Abroad Program Updates: Additional Resources

Because of uncertainties related to COVID-19, international programs continue to monitor travel restrictions and safety on the ground and are adopting new instructional models. As a result, you should prepare for study abroad keeping specific factors in mind. Stay abreast of program updates; modified curriculums and how they might affect your degree plan and eligibility for course credits; and travel restrictions and possible quarantines.

Consult the Lang Global Program Office and your academic advisor as you plan your study abroad, especially if you decide to withdraw at any point before you leave.

The following websites have additional resources and information concerning study abroad programs.

Additional Resources:

- CIEE
- IES Abroad
- SIT World Learning
- John Cabot
- King’s College
- Sophia University
- University of Amsterdam
- Yale-NUS