The data presented here refer to post-graduation outcomes of 2,148 graduates of the class of 2017 gathered within 3 to 12 months after graduation.¹

The New School collected outcomes from surveys and knowledge data such as New School student records, faculty, administrators, peers, and social media.

The top five industries are:
- Fashion & Textiles
- Education
- Arts & Entertainment
- Design
- Healthcare/Health Services

The New School Class of 2017

Employment: working full-time, part-time, freelance, and contract work
Further Education: advancing from an undergraduate degree into a master's degree, or a master's-level student advancing into a doctoral degree
Other Endeavors: seeking employment, not seeking employment or indicated that they would prefer not to answer the question

¹2,148/2,988 The New School Class of 2017
²Employment: working full-time, part-time, freelance, and contract work
³Further Education: advancing from an undergraduate degree into a master's degree, or a master's-level student advancing into a doctoral degree
⁴Other Endeavors: seeking employment, not seeking employment or indicated that they would prefer not to answer the question